

La Salle University

La Salle University Digital Commons

La Salle Alumnus

University Publications

1-1955

Alumnus: January 1955

La Salle University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.lasalle.edu/alumnus>

Recommended Citation

La Salle University, "Alumnus: January 1955" (1955). La Salle Alumnus. 33.
<https://digitalcommons.lasalle.edu/alumnus/33>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the University Publications at La Salle University Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in La Salle Alumnus by an authorized administrator of La Salle University Digital Commons. For more information, please contact duinkerken@lasalle.edu.

La Salle

ALUMNUS

January, 1955

THE ALUMNI BANQUET

The one big social event of the year for all alumni, will be held in the College Field House on Wednesday night, January 26th.

John Hanratty is chairman, and as is the lot of all Dinner Chairmen, he has been working hard for two months organizing his committees, arranging for speakers, settling the financial problems, and convincing everyone he meets that this year's dinner is going to be a corker—nothing like it has ever been done before by La Salle Alumni.

As an innovation this year, ladies will be welcome. It is optional, of course, but if you and your alumni friends care to bring your wives or dates, the opportunity is yours.

Cocktails will be served in the Library Lounge at 6:30. Then the dinner, catered by Rotzell, at 7:00.

Daniel J. McCauley, Jr., '38, will be toastmaster. Brother Stanislaus will deliver his annual report to alumni, and John Ryan will present the Signum Fidei Medal to John M. Haffert, who will deliver the principal address.

Mr. Haffert, 1954 selection for the alumni award, richly deserves the honor the alumni will confer. He has been for many years carrying the message of Our Lady of Fatima throughout the United States. He is a dynamic and inspiring speaker. His message is one that has stimulated a great many people into quiet action in the cause of peace, and has left a lasting impression wherever he has been heard.

He is, in addition, the editor and publisher of Soul Magazine and First Magazine, and is now American National Commander of the Blue Army. This last title is significant. The Blue Army has united all Marian groups into one body, and the idea is rapidly spreading all over the world. Mr. Haffert has recently returned from Rome. He had been invited there by Pope Pius to participate in the closing ceremonies of the Marian Year, the only Catholic layman from the U. S. to be so honored.

Mr. Haffert's most recent book, Russia Will Be Converted, has been widely read and talked about. And with good reason. If the title isn't arresting enough, the material is. He'll probably tell the highlights at the dinner.

As for the award, La Salle is the first college group to recognize Mr. Haffert in this manner, a nice tribute to the perspicacity of the directors of the Alumni Association, who did the selecting. He is fully in the fine tradition of Signum Fidei Medal recipients of the past.

The Medal, as you may know, is presented annually in recognition of noteworthy achievement in the advancement of Christian principles. It is named after the insignia of the Congregation of the Brothers of the Christian Schools . . . "Signum Fidei" . . . the sign of Faith.

Our medalists in previous years include: Brother Anselm; Mrs. Edward D. Morrell, benefactress of Negro and Indian Missions; His Eminence, the late Denis Cardinal Dougherty; Dr. Max Jordan; Dr. John J. Sullivan, president of the Malvern Laymen's Weekend Retreat; Dr. Louis Clerf, eminent Catholic physician; Archbishop Gerald P. O'Hara; Bishop Fulton J. Sheen; John H. Harris, founder of Variety Clubs International; and last year, James M. Keller, M.M., founder of The Christophers.

NEWS IN BRIEF . . .

FIRST ANNUAL ALUMNI GIVING PROGRAM

By the time the ALUMNUS reaches you, the first year of the La Salle Alumni Annual Giving Program will be nearly completed.

Emphasis this first year has been on participation of alumni, regardless of size of the gift. The Brothers have been reluctant, in years past, to ask for contributions regularly from alumni. They felt that La Salle's former students, with family and parish responsibilities, would have little left for gifts to La Salle.

The financial plight of independent colleges throughout America, however, has hit La Salle hard. Income from tuition, and rising costs, have just about met. Because of the contributed services of the Brothers, La Salle can keep afloat despite the lack of any endowment income. But just keeping afloat is not in La Salle's tradition. The demand for Christian Brothers' education is increasing; it will continue until 1975, and when qualified students are clamoring to get in, La Salle has to answer the challenge, as it did in every crisis since 1863.

The call for help from alumni, to keep La Salle strong and growing, was vitally necessary. How well you respond, this year and in years to come, will determine how well La Salle can serve coming generations of deserving and eager young men.

A complete report of the first Annual Giving Program will be presented at the Alumni Dinner, January 26th.

FRED C. SCHOLLER CONTRIBUTES $10,000 TO FOUNDATION

One of the happiest events to strike La Salle College in years was meeting Fred C. Scholler. Mr. Glen Robertson, Sr. introduced Mr. Scholler to the Brothers in 1946, and since then he has been one of La Salle's most ardent benefactors. The president of Scholler Brothers,

Inc., soap manufacturers, Mr. Scholler was Chairman for Corporations during the Library Building drive, has been actively interested in the Foundation since its inception, and has been helping La Salle in ways innumerable. Most recent evidence of the interest and spirit this gentleman feels for a college he never knew until 1946, is a gift of $10,000, given to the Brothers last month to help continue the work they have been doing at La Salle.

SOCIAL CALENDAR . . .

Jan. 10 through Jan. 29—Exhibit of Victor Hugo works in Library Lounge.

Jan. 16—France Des Quatre Saisons—(Film in French).

Jan. 21—Blue & Gold Ball—Benjamin Franklin Hotel.

Jan. 26—Alumni Dinner.

Jan. 28—"Mutiny on the Bounty." Fine Film.

AMONG THE CLASSES . . .

Big news for alumni is the great surge of renewed interest in La Salle from all pre-war segments of the alumni. It started last September after a conversation among the Alumni Directors. Since the war, the alumni has gotten big. With 1949, graduating classes have been averaging 400 men . . . and this will continue. These classes are well organized, run frequent class affairs, some even sponsor their own newsletter. As a result, interest in general alumni activities was suffering. To reverse the trend, to give the smaller pre-war classes a new voice in alumni matters, and to encourage more successful social events among these classes, the directors' committee hit upon a new idea. If the smaller classes would cooperate with each other and join into natural groupings with common interest and associations at La Salle, each group as a unit could then equal approximately the size of the later classes. Separate class reunions are still encouraged, but for the many alumni who would welcome the idea of getting together with La Salle men they have come to know who are not classmates, the group idea has fine possibilities. The planned grouping of classes will be: those prior to 1930; 1930 to 1940; 1941 to 1948; Evening Division.

How well this idea has caught on is best expressed by reviewing the wave of energy exerted in the past few weeks:

CLASSES 1913 TO 1929

J. RUSSELL CULLEN, Chairman

Twenty-one "Old Timers" of College, High, and C Commercial of the old La Salle at Broad and Stiles met at a dinner meeting at the Barclay on December 1. Object: bring the inadequate alumni rolls up-to-date, then go out after classmates to hold class reunions on a small scale, and then plan annual reunions for the entire "Old Timers'" group. This program should revive the interest of the men of this era in La Salle, and tighten up the group into an effective alumni segment. Present at the dinner were: John Green, Joe Barrett, Charlie Toner, Bud McCarthy, Bill Donovan, George Dunn, Ray O'Donnell, Cyril Dolan, Bob Morrissey, Harry Wolfington, Nace Murray, Russ Cullen, Joe Lehman, Frank Fee, Dr. Jim Lehman, Al Whalen, Dr. Frank McGeary, Joe Carlin, Magnus Schaebler, Huck Finley, Joe Quinn, Joe Lodge, and Brother Stanislaus.

CLASSES 1930 TO 1940

JOHN A. CLEMENT, Chairman

Eighteen men have started the wheels moving in this group: Larry Bowman, Charley Gensheimer, John Marshall, and John Smith, 1935; Frank Cappiello, Joe McTear, and Vince Needham, 1936; Leon Blash, Phil Kear, and Rem O'Hara, 1937; John Guischar, Dan McCauley, and Charlie Reilly, 1938; John Clement, Joe Dolan, and Frank Sullivan, 1939; and Walt Cummiskey, 1940.

'41 TO '48—GREATEST SUCCESS EVER!

JOSEPH FRAZER, Chairman

Reorganization attempts of the '41 to '48 classes reached a climax more successful than any effort since WW II. Over 100 men (an unbelievable 80% of those contacted) turned out for a beer and basketball night, November 19. And this was just a limited trial run to test the system the group plans to use in organizing as a unit during 1955.

Because of limited time plus the decision to use personal contacts only, a general invitation was not mailed to all alumni in these classes. Eighteen volunteer "leaders" agreed to personally call two or three men with whom they have kept in contact, regardless of class. In turn each man called was to contact some of his own La Salle friends to come on up for the preview of the basketball team. The entire group of over 100 men voted unanimous approval of the proposal to form the '41 to '48 classes into one organized group. It is planned to conduct combined reunions, dances and other affairs with group-wide committees and officers acting for the group.

With over 100 men present, it's impossible to mention them all. Almost every class was well represented and almost everyone knew everyone else. Some of the familiar groups included: O'Keefe, Rodden & Co.; the Centannis and the Bucket Clubbers; Jules Blum, McAteer and gang; Menniti, Burke, McGrath and most of the '43 crowd; Winkelman, Fahy, Marcoe & Co.; Conran, McCabe, Perry and Jim Hoerst's basketball mob; the Joe Mack-Joe Wilson crowd; T. B. Harper, III and associates; and the Curtis-McCloskey Forty-eighters.

The success of this initial effort points the way to even greater success with the coming events planned by the group. The next two targets are for the promotion of the Alumni Dinner January 26, and a '41-'48 Reunion Dance (informal) scheduled for March or April. The same system of personal contacting will be used, but with the added impetus of these 100 additional men calling, plus a mail invitation to the entire '41-'48 alumni list.

Everything points to a repeat performance of a wonderful time—so let's everybody get with it. For information, or to volunteer to get your own gang together, contact Tom Hickey at the Alumni Office, or one of the following: Charlie O'Keefe, Jules Blum, Hal Bullman, Bob Gasparro, Johnny McAteer, Marty Greenbaum, Ed Menniti, Marty Burke, Joe Frazer, Joe McFadden, Jim McGrath, Bob Winkelman, George Swoyer, John Rooney, Joe Mack, Joe Wilson, Bill Conran, Don Clune, Bill Rogers, Art Perry, Steve Marcoe, Jim Fahy, Tom Harper, George Curtis, Harry Gibbons, Jack McCloskey.

1948 TO 1954

JOHN P. RYAN, Chairman

Fall reunions have been popping all over the place; '48 had a party at La Salle on November 12. A Thanksgiving Dance on November 5 for '50; '49ers held a highly successful Stag, November 5; '51 held a Stag at McCall Post on November 26; for '54, an organization meeting at Andy Seminick's and a four-page newsletter published and mailed; '52 held their Stag at La Salle, December 10; and the present senior class has started organizing for alumni action. They will receive the ALUMNUS throughout their final year.

Judging from the marked enthusiasm of their first organization meeting, the '53 class could develop into one of La Salle's strongest alumni units. Brother Edward is the unifying force behind them, and they are determined, despite a lack of time and manpower, to form an organization that will be ready to receive the men who will emerge from service in 1955.

Robert N. Richards, James Sanzare, George R. Reiss, Jr., John T. Magee, James McDevitt, Richard Ryan, Paul Eisenstein, James J. Mallon, Bart Brooks, William Murphy, Mark Gavigan, Gene Hagan and Pete Finley attended the December 28th meeting, and will act as temporary Directors of the class. Bart Brooks, Mark Gavigan and Jim Mallon are temporary Class Representatives to the Alumni Association Board. Jim Mallon was elected interim Class Chairman.

Their first class social affair will be a Stag, to be held near April 22nd, at Leonard Hall. Bill Murphy is chairman of the affair. In the meantime, a complete class-wide campaign is being launched by this group to get and keep the current address of every man in the class. Cooperation of all 1953 men in forwarding address changes is urgent.

PERSONAL PATTERN . . .

Charlie Adami, '18, is in the White Haven Sanatorium, White Haven, New York. Drop him a line. Vera and Lou Burgoyne, '33, welcomed their newest addition, Sidney John II. Philip A. Niessen, '36, writes from Great Neck, N. Y. He has a new position as Guidance Counselor in the junior high there. John P. Leonard, Jr., '38, now in Korea, was promoted to the rank of full Colonel—the first La Salle grad in the Regular Army to attain that rank. A. Jerry deAngelo, '39, sends greetings from California, and announces a recent addition, son Joseph.

1941-1948

Mike DiFato, '42, was appointed Comptroller of the Ellis Construction Co. of Bethesda, Maryland. It was a girl for the Bernard A. Breslins, '41. Harold Bullman, '42, is now in charge of the Tax Department at Piasecki; and James F. Dever, '45, is Office Manager and Comptroller of Harrington Olds. Mike and Angeline DiAngelis, '47, welcomed their second girl, Gloria Jean. Bill Garrity, '47, joined the faculty of La Salle's Evening College, teaching Accounting. Mr. and Mrs. James L. Pié, '48, named their little girl Maureen Frances. Jim is now with the law firm of O'Keefe and Knecht here in Phila. Charles Cochrane, '48, tells us that he's teaching Biology at Frankford High. Mrs. William Conran presented Bill, '47, with Angela Mary ("Little Angel"). Bill is teaching Advertising at Temple. James Powers, '48, is doing a great job with juveniles, working between the Municipal Court and the Youth Study Center. To Fred and Peggy Dougherty, '48, a son, Christopher. Ted Harris, '48, is now in Cairo on a Ford Foundation Fellowship, studying problems of students in the Near East. Before returning home next summer, he plans to visit Lebanon and Syria. Jim Hammil, '47, has been promoted to Lt. Colonel in the Medical Corps at Walter Reed Hospital.

1949-1954

Jim Tuppeny, '49, is now in charge of the Delinquent Tax Division at Beneficial Savings Fund. William F. Diehl, '49, writes he's Officer in Charge of Ordnance Engineering Curriculum for the Navy. Paul J. Leonard, '49, is now a representative for the Fort Howard Paper Company. Wedding bells rang for William F. X. Coffey, M.D., '49, and Roseanita Schubert this past May. Bill also received a Mayo Fellowship in Internal Medicine. Edward L. McQuaid, D.S.C., '49, has opened his office for the practice of chiropody. Henry V. Martin, '49, is now a Captain in the Regular Marine Corps—sorry to hear he was wounded while fighting in Korea. C. J. Spinelli, '49, was appointed Coordinator of the newly established RCA-Victor Radio and Victrola Division. Herbert T. Picus, with Buten Paint Stores in a Junior Executive capacity, announced the arrival of a daughter, Lynne. Joseph Battagliani, '49, William Felte, '50, William Fitzpatrick, '50, and William Sheridan, '50, all had M.A. added to their names at Penn's graduation. In October, Richard Becker, '50 and Jane Duckworth were married at the Church of St. Francis of Assisi.

Walter Colman, '50 and Ray Diautolo are teaching at Roman Catholic High. J. V. McIntyre, '50, Olympic oarsman, is at the Tewksbury School in Jersey. Tom Boylan, '50, is at the new Archbishop Prendergast High. John Toland, '50, is at Loyola College in Baltimore after obtaining his M.A. in Dramatics at Catholic U. James Knopf and John Herr, both of '50, are teaching at the new William Dick School; and Norman Haider, '50, is at the Regional High School in Mt. Holly. We hear Joseph O'Callaghan, '50, received his M.A. at Marquette, and won a Fellowship for his Doctorate at Fordham. The John Chmytz's, '50, added a second son, Jeffrey Scott, to the family roster. John is with Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co.,

Public Accountants. The Frank W. Hausers, '50, announced the arrival of their second daughter. Ed Warren, '50, now heads the Drama Department at St. Mary's of Notre Dame. Heard from Dr. Samuel H. John, '50, "Having loads of fun raising German Shepherd dogs . . . would like to hear from other alumni interested in the breed." William G. Snyder, '50, is director of the Army Education and Information Center for South Korea, controlling courses for both Army personnel and civilians. Bill managed to snare even the Chief Judge Advocate in the area, to teach English. John and Helen Warren, '50, announced the birth of their son, Timothy Scott. The Owen Tuckers, '50, announced the arrival of daughter Mary Anne. Frank Hoban, '50, and Catherine Quigley made Thanksgiving their wedding day. Joseph F. Ryan, '50, was appointed manager of General Binding Corp. Sales and Service, in Cincinnati.

James F. Brown, '50, was discharged from the Coast Guard and is now a sales representative for Reynolds Metal Co. Tom Burns, '50, sends his best regards to the Class of 1950 from Boston, where he is spending a year in preparation for entering St. Charles Seminary. James Magowan, '51, and Gertrude E. Donahue, Immaculata, '51, were married this past summer. Mrs. Magowan's sister, Dorothy, married Richard S. Cullen, of '52. John Doman, '51, and Anthony Heck, '51, joined the benedicts. John Falzetta, '51, is completing work toward his doctorate at Temple. Frank DeMarco is teaching at the T. M. Peirce School, Harry Boston at the Allison School. Rev. Anastasius C. Bandy, '51, received his M.A. in Classical Studies from U. of P. John C. Mackin, Jr. married Barbara M. Schwartz. George E. Lemmonnier, '51, is with the Audit Division of Japan Central Exchange, as is Harry Hilton, '51, as an Accountant. Larry Bur, '51, is in the Advertising Department of Exide Battery. It was a boy, Francis Thomas, Jr., for the Brancie T. Berrys, '52. Francis X. Conaty, '52 and Dorothy Monahan Conaty welcomed Dorothy, Jr. Nice letters are coming from Elwood W. Purcel, '52, about his wife and young son, Christopher. Woody is now teaching in Japan. Bill Albanese, '52, and Lorraine Mariani were married September 4. Frank Barrett and Fred Wozniak, '52, are with Moore Business Forms. Carl Von Hake received the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in 3rd Infantry Division's Intelligence Section prior to his recent discharge.

Mike Ianelli sends a chilly "hello" from Fairbanks, Alaska. Albert Chelius, '52, is with the Air Force in Germany. Leo and Mary Dooley, '52, are proudly introducing their son, James Leo, born October 6. Richard V. Emerson, '52, is in Retail Sales Promotion for J. S. Youle, Food Broker, in Baltimore. Joseph Whitaker, '52, is with Dennis Mitchell Industries. Son Joseph, Jr. was born November 27. John H. Leven, '53, entered the Army. Richard Exley also. Louis J. Siana, '53, is in the Presidential Guard at Arlington, Va. Joseph F. Fricker is stationed at Fort Harrison, Indiana. Charles Wallowitch, '53, is overseas. Charles J. Day has been commissioned a Marine 2nd Lt. at Quantico. Born on September 9, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. McGrath, '53. The first American winner of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick Exchange Scholarship for graduate study in Ireland was Charles B. Smit, '53. He is at the University of Dublin. Joseph School, '53, is at Georgetown U. for his Master's Degree in Biochemistry. Frank O'Donnell and Jim Corbett, '54, are at Fordham for their Master's in Psychology. Thomas Harrison, '54, is at Beale Air Force Base, California. David P. Malone, '54, has been commissioned a Marine 2nd Lt. at Quantico. Joseph Bozzi, '54, accepted a position at Collegeville Trapp High School, teaching French. Robert Richards, '54, editor of the Explorer, is at Samuel Fels Jr. High School. John G. Carnila and Robert Bonner are at the Longfellow School.

—MISS HELEN O'NEILL
Social Editor

Last year Coach Ken Loeffler's sophomore-studded Explorers finished up the basketball season by winning 19 of the last 20 games, climaxed of course by beating Bradley for the NCAA crown. Excepting heady Frank O'Hara, now in Villanova Law School on scholarship, the entire championship squad is back and eager for action. Speculation centers around the question "Can they do it again?" Surely the odds are against championship repetition—no one realizes this more than Loeffler and his team—but locker room talk is about games coming up, rather than NCAA tournament play.

The 1953-54 team averaged 75 points over the 30-game route, and this year's edition can reasonably be expected to equal or surpass that figure. Loeffler's two main concerns are: defense, particularly off the defensive boards, and replacing O'Hara. The five new men in contention for O'Hara's spot are senior Joe Gilson and sophomores Alonzo Lewis, Walt Fredricks, Bob Kraemer and John Gola. How fast one of these can acquire the needed savvy will have to be determined in actual competition.

The incomparable Tom Gola will be out to retain everybody's All-American listing. Last year's sophs, Charley Singley, Fran O'Malley, Frank Blatcher, Bob Maples, Charley Greenberg, John Yodsnukis, Bob Ames and Manny Gomez, are now matured by competition and should prove their worth, thoroughly schooled in Loeffler's "balanced offense." If they can take up this season where they left off last campaign, and if the new men can be integrated into the returning veteran outfit, La Salle will be the team to watch! It should be an interesting season.

LA SALLE BOOSTERS . . .

Hats off to a few La Salle boosters—who have let the Placement Office know about job openings for students and grads: Jim Wilkinson, '49; Joe Smith, '51; Charlie Reilly, '38; Len Connolly, '42; Marty Burke, '43; Lou Celani, '49; John McAteer, '42; Joe McFadden, '42; Al Pitner, '49; Art Perry, '47; Frank Guerin, '41; George Swoyer, '44; Hugh Shields, '51; Harry Mason, '49; Bill Ryan, '50.

More of this kind of alumni support is invited. You can be especially helpful to men of the Class of '52, just returning to civilian life. Call Miss O'Neill, at VI 8-1100, when you hear of a job opening—part time for students, full time for grads and Evening Division men.

The freshman team: Topping the list of yearlings from the "City of Brotherly Love" comes Charles Eltringham, a 6'4" All-Catholic guard and All-Tourney selection in the Washington, D. C., high school invitational basketball tournament, from West Catholic High School. From La Salle High comes Gerald Griffin, biggest man on the squad, topping 6'5". North Catholic is well represented with Tom Garberini, a 5'10" "ballhawk." A Public League hopeful from John Bartram High is Edgar Snare, 6'2". Another All-Catholic guard from St. Jame's High in Chester is Bill McGonigal, 6'1". Also, from Chester's Pennsylvania Military College Prep comes Jack Steele, 6'4".

The out-of-towners are big Alan Ferner, 6'3" forward from Collingswood High, New Jersey. Alan was a member of the All-State team of New Jersey and picked as being the "Most Valuable" player in the state. From Holy Spirit High in Atlantic City comes Donald Marrandino, captain of the Holy Spirit squad last year. Don's teammate, a 5'11" forward, Jack Shevillo, is also on the Explorers' freshman team. Last, but far from least, is Bob Graham, from Weehauken High School in New Jersey. Bob, a southpaw, was selected on the second team of the New Jersey All-State five. He stands an even six feet and is the yearlings' potential "jump-shot artist."

INTRODUCING THE NEW EXPLORERS

ALONZO LEWIS—a 6-foot, 2-inch Negro player from Darby High School, is rated as the best sophomore prospect since Tom Gola. A first string All-State selection in his senior year at Darby, Lewis also led the scoring on the freshman team last year with a per-game average of 21.5 points. Only sophomore to break into the first-string lineup of the champs.

ROBERT KRAEMER—a 6-foot, 3-inch guard, comes from our own La Salle High. Bob, up from the freshman team last year, expects to see plenty of action with the varsity; makes classic drive-in shots; is fast and aggressive and uses his height to much advantage.

WALT FREDRICKS—a soph hopeful who may, with his big 6-foot, 6-inch frame, be a big help this year. "Wally" comes from Springfield High in Springfield, Penna., second best to Al Lewis in scoring honors last year on the freshman team. He is fast for a big man and can shake up the defense with his long range jump shots.

VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE 1954-55

December
1 Wed.	Millersville	Lincoln H.S.
5 Sun.	Loyola of the South	New Orleans
8 Wed.	P.M.C.	Lincoln H.S.
11 Sat.	Niagara	Buffalo
15 Wed.	Lafayette	Easton
18 Sat.	Utah	Mad. Sq. Gar., N. Y.
21 Tues.	Kentucky Invitational Tournament	Away
22 Wed.	La Salle vs. Southern California
	Utah vs. Kentucky
27 Mon.	Holiday Tournament	Mad. Sq. Gar., N. Y.
29 Wed.	Upper—La Salle vs. Syracuse; Niagara vs. U.C.I.A.
31 Fri.	Lower—Duquesne vs. Villanova; Dayton vs. St. John's
January
2 Sun.	St. Louis	Away
8 Sat.	Brandeis Univ. (Temple U.-Lehigh)	Conv. Hall
12 Wed.	Muhlenberg	Lincoln H.S.
15 Sat.	Lebanon Valley (St. Joseph's-Furman)	Conv. Hall
19 Wed.	West Chester	Away
22 Sat.	N. Carolina State	Away
29 Sat.	St. Joseph's (Temple U.-Penn State)	Conv. Hall
February
2 Wed.	Georgetown	Wash., D. C.
5 Sat.	Georgetown (Temple U.-St. Joseph's)	Conv. Hall
10 Thur.	Manhattan	Mad. Sq. Gar., N. Y.
12 Sat.	Richmond (St. Joseph's-Rhode Is. State)	Conv. Hall
16 Wed.	Albright	Reading
19 Sat.	Muhlenberg	Allentown
23 Wed.	Fordham	N. Y.
26 Sat.	Temple (St. Joseph's-Muhlenberg)	Conv. Hall

VARSITY BASKETBALL ROSTER

No.	Name	Yr.	Pos.	Age	Ht.	Wt.	High School
4	Fran O'Malley	Jr.	F	20	6:03	180	St. Rose H.S. Carbondale, Pa.
5	Alonzo Lewis	So.	G	19	6:02	187	Darby H.S. Darby, Pa.
6	Bob Kraemer	So.	G	19	6:03	180	La Salle H.S. Philadelphia, Pa.
7	Bob Ames	Jr.	F	20	6:03	181	Roxborough H.S. Philadelphia, Pa.
8	Manuel Gomez	Jr.	F	20	6:05	190	Forest Hills H.S. Forest Hills, L. I.
9	Walt Fredricks	So.	F	19	6:06	190	Springfield H.S. Springfield, Pa.
10	Charles Singley	Jr.	F	19	6:03	175	W. Catholic H.S. Philadelphia, Pa.
11	Charles Greenberg	Jr.	G	21	6:02	175	La Salle H.S. Philadelphia, Pa.
12	John Yodsnukis	Jr.	C	23	6:07	209	Lincoln H.S. Warrior Run, Pa.
14	Bob Maples	Jr.	C	24	6:05	175	York Com'l H.S. Elmhurst, Ill.
15	Tom Gola	Sr.	C	21	6:07	210	La Salle H.S. Philadelphia, Pa.
16	Joe Gilson	Sr.	F	21	6:04	185	Lincoln H.S. Philadelphia, Pa.
17	Frank Blatcher	Jr.	G	24	6:02	190	South Phila. H.S. Philadelphia, Pa.
18	John Gola	So.	G	19	6:02	176	N. Catholic H.S. Philadelphia, Pa.