La Salle College hosts a record of some 1900 upper-classmen and their parents this Sunday (Sept. 17) in Parents' Day activities, 2 to 4 P.M. on the campus, 20th st. and Olney ave.

This Sunday's program is the second marking the opening of the fall semester. Last Sunday (Sept. 10), a record 860 freshmen and their families were welcomed to the campus.

Brother Daniel Bernian, F.S.C., president of the college, will extend a welcome to the students and their parents in the College Union Lounge at 2 P.M. Color slide views of the campus and guided tours will be followed by refreshments at 4 P.M.

The principal purpose of the programs is to provide an opportunity for the parents to become better acquainted with the students and faculty of the college, and with the aims of higher education.

La Salle College will welcome a record overall day and evening enrollment of some 4800 students next Monday (Sept. 18), when the day division opens the college's 99th academic year. Evening classes began Sept. 5.

Another mark of some 860 day freshmen, added to pre-registration totals of upper-classmen, brings the day enrollment to another record of over 2600 students. The evening division student body at over 2200 exceeds another record.

La Salle's day freshmen, who could alone equal some 70% of the college's entire day enrollment in 1946-47, register during an orientation program Monday and Tuesday (Sept. 11-12), with upper-classmen slated for the remainder of the week.

Another record total -- for the fourth consecutive year -- of more than 1600 R.O.T.C. cadets, will take part in La Salle's military science program, commanded by Col. William J. Bennett, USA, of Abington.

Major innovation on the La Salle campus for the 1961-62 academic year are construction of a $500,000 residence hall expected for completion next spring, two new courses, and 18 new faculty members.

A twin-unit dormitory, which will accomodate 150 additional out-of-town students, the college's fifth residence hall was designed by Carroll, Grisdale and Van Alen.

Both new courses, "The U.S. in the Twentieth Century" and "Constitutional Law," are being offered by the Government department.

La Salle College opened its fourth "More Efficient Reading for Executives" workshop, Wednesday (Sept. 20) and Saturday (Sept. 23) at 10 A.M.

The workshop, a 12-week course which emphasizes individual instruction and the latest equipment, is conducted by Dr. Bernard B. Goldner, professor of Industry at La Salle.

Evidence from previous workshops, according to Goldner, indicates that even fast readers with high comprehension and retention improved their reading skills through the course.

Executives interested in the course can obtain information by contacting Dr. Goldner at Victor 8-8300.

Brother Francis Emery, F.S.C., has been appointed dean of La Salle College's evening division, it was announced this week (Sept. 16) by Brother Daniel Bernian, F.S.C., president of the college.

He succeeds Brother Gregorian Paul, F.S.C., evening school dean since 1953 and former president of the college.

La Salle's evening division, opened in 1946, has soared from an enrollment of 127 students at its inception to this year's record total of some 2200 students.

Brother Emery, 33, joined the La Salle staff in 1960 as an associate professor of English, and this year served as director of the college's summer sessions program.

The new dean is a 1944 graduate of West Philadelphia Catholic High School for Boys, and an alumnus of Catholic University, where he received his bachelor's degree in 1949. He earned the master's and Ph. D. degrees in English from the University of Pittsburgh in 1951 and 1957, respectively. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Brother Paul, 53, president of the college from 1945-52 -- during the post-war period of rapid expansion, returns to the teaching staff as professor of Chemistry. He has also served as dean of the college (1944-45), and taught chemistry and physics at LaSalle High School (1932-33) as well as at the college.

A varsity-freshman basketball game, two-mile parade, a band tournament, and the crowning of a Basketball Queen, highlight La Salle College's annual "Tap-Off Rally" next Sunday (Nov. 19) on the campus, 20th st. and Olney ave.

The giant rally, marking the opening of La Salle's 32nd season of inter-collegiate basketball on Dec. 1, is sponsored by Sigma Phi Lambda -- the college's spirit fraternity -- and opens with the parade at 1 P.M. at Broad st. and Stenton ave. The route of march will be south on Broad st. from Stenton to Olney ave., and west on Olney to the campus at 20th st.

Coach "Dudey" Moore's 1961-62 varsity court squad meets La Salle's yearling quintet at 3:30 P.M. in the field house. Proceeds go to the new Basketball Hall of Fame at Springfield, Mass.

The parade will consist of some 35 floats prepared by student organizations at La Salle and several marching bands, including Catholic League champions Cardinal Dougherty High School.

The second annual La Salle College Invitational Tournament of Bands begins when the bands march into Mc Carthy Stadium on campus at about 2:45 P.M. Brother Daniel Bernian, F.S.C., president of the college, will present trophies to the three best bands.

Brother Daniel will also present awards for the best floats in three divisions -- Fraternities, Clubs and Committees -- and a special "President's Award" for the float best typifying the rally's theme: "The

More than 1400 La Salle College ROTC cadets next Tuesday (Dec. 5) parade from the campus at 20th st. and Olney ave. to the Church of the Holy Child, Broad st. and Duncannon ave., where the 10th annual Mass of St. Barbara, patroness of artillerymen, will be celebrated at 10:30 A.M.

To accomodate the cadets -- a record number in the 11 year history of La Salle's ROTC program -- two Masses will be celebrated simultaneously, one in the main church, a second in the chapel.

The cadets will form at 9:45 A.M. in Mc Carthy Stadium on 20th st. below Olney ave., and march east on Olney and south on Broad st., entering the church at about 10:10 A.M.

The Rev. Mark Heath, O.P., La Salle chaplain, and the Rev. Ferrer Halligan, O.P., will be the celebrant and deliver the sermon, respectively, at the Mass in the main church. In the chapel, the Rev. Clement Burns, O.P., will be the celebrant and give the sermon.

The annual War Dead Memorial Service, honoring La Salle alumni who gave their lives in the two World Wars and in Korea, will follow the Masses.

La Salle College's fifth annual Career Conference, sponsored by the college's Placement Bureau, will be held at 10:30 A.M. next Tuesday (Dec. 5) in the College Union Theatre on campus, 20th st. and Olney ave.

The annual conference aims at providing seniors with first-hand, current information from the business and industrial fields of their choice, and to give business a better understanding of problems faced by graduates.

Two talks, followed by an audience-participation discussion period, highlight the program. Dr. Paul Sherwood, College Relations Administrator for Burroughs Corporation, Research Center will speak on "What Does the Employer Look for in the Interview?" and Theodore E. Ersley, Vice President and General Sales Manager for The National Drug Co. will discuss "What Information Should the Student Expect from the Interview?"

A panel of some 15 representatives of leading area business and industrial firms will advise over 500 seniors on employment prospects in their respective fields. Among companies represented will be American Stores Co., Boardwalk National Bank and Trust Co., Internal Revenue Service and Third U.S. Civil Service Region. George Swoyer, chairman of La Salle's marketing department, will chair the panel.

Bob Mc Ateer, six foot senior from North Arlington, N.J., smashed two La Salle College basketball scoring records and made a major contribution to the tying of a team record, as the Explorers walloped Millersville State, 102-62, in the season-opener for both teams Friday (Dec. 1) on Lincoln High School's court.

Mc Ateer, who for the second straight season captains coach Dudey Moore's quintete, ripped the cords for 42 points, erasing a mark of 41 set by La Salle's all-time great, Tom Gola, against Loyola (Balt.) in 1954, also at Lincoln High.

In setting the new scoring record, Mc Ateer tallied 20 field goals, exceeding the previous mark of 17 set by Joe Heyer against Lehigh in 1958. Mc Ateer hit on 20 of 28 attempts from the field, for a blistering 71.4 shooting percentage.

Mc Ateer's 20 field goals contributed to team total of 44, equaling a record set against West Chester State in 1952.
