1. Located on the corner of Hillcrest and Ridgefield Road there is a large lot available to build a community garden, social institution, religious institution or grocery store. This particular neighborhood is part of a major U.S. city. Most houses in the area are row homes that line the streets and since it is part of a city there is little open, green space. There are some local restaurants in the neighborhood including Chinese take-out, pizza shops and fast food chains as well as very few major grocery stores. The population is 34,600 and is broken down to 36% White, 60% Black and 4% Asian. The average income of a household is $36,600. The poverty rate of the neighborhood is 36% and an unemployment rate of 17%. The percentage of people without a high school education is 28%. The Crime Index number is 10 on a scale where 100 is considered the safest.

2. Located on the corner of Just Born Way and Hamilton Blvd there is a large lot available to build a community garden, social institution, religious institution or grocery store. This particular neighborhood is part of a major U.S. city. Residents live in row homes or rent space in large apartment buildings. There are few free-standing homes with private outdoor space as well as little open, public green space. The most common food source is bodegas, which are small corner stores that sell basic foods and necessities. There are some privately owned restaurants in the area but fast food establishments are more common. The neighborhood’s population is 270,600. The population is broken down to 77% Black, 17% Hispanic and 6% White. The average income of a household is $50,000. The poverty rate is 14% and the unemployment rate is 16%. The percentage of people with some college education is 74%.
Located on the corner of Evergreen and Hilldale Road there is a large lot available to build a community garden, social institution, religious institution or grocery store. The lot is located in a small U.S. city that is part of a major metropolitan area. It was originally an industrial city with the main source of jobs and economy coming from steel production. However the city is becoming more developed with a center city as the main business area including multiple privately owned restaurants and stores. The city is very diverse with various neighborhoods and different socio-economic statuses including many who are below the poverty line as well as wealthier families. There is 1 main grocery store located in the city. The current population is 75,000 and is broken down to 76% White, 7% Black, 3% Asian and 10% other races. The average income is $40,000. The poverty rate is 22% and the unemployment rate is 8%. The Crime Index number is 24 on a scale where 100 is considered the safest.