The discussion, which will begin at approximately 11:15 P.M., will deal with the topic "Conservatism and Liberalism in America Today."

GENERAL-cont'd

In recent weeks the college has learned of the death of two members of faculty families: the mother of Mr. Daniel Rodden of English faculty and the father of Rev. Raymond Halligan O.P., of the Theology faculty. Members of the faculty and staff are asked to remember these beloved dead in their Masses and prayers.

EVENING DIVISION

The Evening Division will begin the spring semester with five new instructors: Rev. George Dougherty, Ph. D., Catholic University of America, Philosophy department; Mr. James C. Fallon, B.S., St. Joseph's College, Philosophy; Philip Goldstein, Ph. D. from Carnegie Institute of Technology, Electronic Physics; Bogoljub Lalevic, Ph.D. From Temple University, Electronic Physics; and Mr. Roger Reynolds, M.A. from Fordham University, Finance.

The regular Evening Division evening of orientation for the spring term will be conducted on Thursday, January 21. The program consists of a talk and remarks by Brother Emery, Dean; outline of Evening Division activities by the President of the Student Congress, Mr. Frank Kirk; remarks on Public Relations, by Mr. John McCloskey, Vice President for Public Relations; and then a principal talk on "Effective Study Habits" by Dr. Victor Brooks of the Evening Division Psychology department. The two hundred some new students then separate in seminar groups, according to curriculum interests. These groups feature an hour long discussion and question and answer sessions in terms of these areas: Mr. Joseph Markmann with Accounting majors; Mr. Joseph Crowley with Industrial Management and Industrial Relations majors; Mr. George Swoyer with Marketing and General Business majors; Dr. Howard Hannum with Liberal Arts majors; and Mr. Edward Nolan with Mathematics, and Science majors. The evening terminates with an informal coffee hour in the Union Ballroom.

Registration for the spring term will be conducted during the last week of January, the 25th to the 29th, from 7:00 till 9:00 P.M. in the College auditorium. Classes for the spring semester begin on Monday, February 1.

The entire Evening Division faculty will join the day school faculty for the Wednesday, February 17 pre-evaluation General Faculty meeting in the Union Theatre at 7:30 P.M.
