

11-7-1984

Faculty Bulletin: November 7, 1984

La Salle University

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.lasalle.edu/faculty_bulletins

Recommended Citation

La Salle University, "Faculty Bulletin: November 7, 1984" (1984). Faculty Bulletins. 14.
http://digitalcommons.lasalle.edu/faculty_bulletins/14

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the University Publications at La Salle University Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Faculty Bulletins by an authorized administrator of La Salle University Digital Commons. For more information, please contact careyc@lasalle.edu.

“Contributors to the Fine Arts,” 569 Dean’s List Students Honored at University’s Convocation

Three local “Contributors to the Fine Arts” and some 569 Dean’s List students were honored at La Salle University’s annual Fall Honors Convocation on Sunday (Oct. 21) in the Union Ballroom.

Honorary doctor of fine arts degrees were conferred on William R. Smith, associate conductor of The Philadelphia Orchestra; Violette de Mazia, vice president of The Barnes Foundation, and Benjamin D. Bernstein, a Philadelphia philanthropist and patron of the arts.

Brother President Patrick Ellis, F.S.C., Ph.D. presided at the convocation which honored 412 men and women from the Day Division and 157 students from the Evening Division.

Smith, who has been affiliated with the Philadelphia Orchestra since 1952, was honored for numerous artistic achievements including designing the Orchestra’s “extensive and impressively successful” program of educational concerts.

“Recognized as one of this city’s most articulate spokesmen for music,” Smith’s citation said in part, “he has made a singularly vigorous contribution to the cultural life of the Delaware Valley in enhancing the musical awareness of our youth while bringing memorable experiences to the musically-minded public at large.”

Miss de Mazia, the author of a number of works on French painters, was honored for her many contributions as an educator, perhaps her most notable being “the formulation of the instructional program at the Barnes Foundation that has become so influential on the philosophy and appreciation of art. Generations of students have been inspired by this creative teacher,” her citation said.

Brother President Patrick Ellis, F.S.C., Ph.D. (right) with honorary degree recipients (from left): Violette de Mazia, William Smith, and Benjamin Bernstein.

Bernstein, who served as Pennsylvania’s Commissioner for Charitable Enterprises under Governors Shapp and Thornburgh, was honored for his “extraordinary” contributions as a patron of the arts.

“With unflinching and warm-hearted generosity and without fanfare,” Bernstein’s citation said, “he has supported and encouraged individual artists and cooperated in founding and guiding new and experimental arts organizations.”

Smith was sponsored by Nicholas A. Giordano, president of the Philadelphia Stock Exchange. Miss de Mazia’s sponsor was Dr. John S. Penny, retired professor of biology, La Salle University, and Bernstein was sponsored by Leon J. Perelman, president of American Paper Products Co.

England, Ireland Study Tour Slated

Professor James Foote of the English/Communication Arts Department will be guest co-conductor and instructor in a July, 1985 study tour of England and Ireland. Mr. Foote will teach one of three course offerings included in the twenty-five day circuit: English and Irish Drama in the Theatre.

The on-site exploration of dramatic, literary and cultural landmarks and personalities starts with a nine-day stay in London and proceeds through Stratford (Shakespeare country), Oxford, Canterbury, Bath, Stonehenge, Wales and on to Cork, Kerry, Sligo (Yeats country) and Dublin.

Student participants may earn up to six (6) hours of undergraduate or graduate credit in selecting from Mr. Foote’s course or from English Literature in the British Isles, taught by Professor David Cylkowski of Mercy College of Detroit, or Medieval and Early Modern English History, offered by Professor Dennis Thomson of Michigan State University.

Professor Cylkowski, who has directed the overseas study tour from Detroit for the past seven years, plans to visit the La Salle campus in early November to meet with interested students.

Grants And Awards

Kirsch, Raymond, assistant professor of mathematical sciences, was awarded a summer research associateship and subsequent contract with the U.S. Navy to study possible architectures for artificial intelligence expert systems. His research was done at the Naval Air Development Center in Warminster, Pennsylvania.

Wine, William David, assistant professor of English and communication arts, received an honorable mention for his play, “The Tube,” in a writing competition held by Writer’s Digest Magazine. “The Tube” was also one of twenty, final-round participants from among 506 scripts submitted to the Country Playhouse in Houston, Texas, as part of its annual playwriting competition.

Office Attained

Barchak, Dr. Leonard J., assistant professor of English and communication arts, has been named to the 9-member board of directors of the FinnFest USA, the national organization of Finnish societies which plans the annual Finnish cultural convention and festival. His term runs to 1986. Dr. Barchak has also become the moderator of Phi Beta Sigma fraternity.

Clabaugh, Dr. Gary, associate professor of education, has been appointed to the board of directors of the Philadelphia Coordinating Council on the Holocaust.

Diehl, Dr. George K., chairperson of fine arts and professor of music, has been appointed to the board of directors of the Academy of Children’s Music.

Ellis, Brother Patrick, F.S.C., Ph.D., president and professor of English and communication arts, has been named to the Mayor’s Commission on the 21st Century.

Filicetti, Dr. Peter J., assistant director of the Counseling Center and associate professor of psychology, will serve on the advisory board of the Palliative Care Service at American Oncologic Hospital/Fox Chase Cancer Center.

Fitzgerald, Brother Gerald, F.S.C., director of Admissions, has been elected treasurer of the Pennsylvania Association of Catholic College Admissions Officers for 1984-85.

Joglekar, Dr. Prafulla N., associate professor of management, has been elected to the board of directors of the Nonprofit Management Association for a two-year term.

Seltzer, Dr. Joseph, associate professor of management, was appointed chairperson of the Organizational Behavior Teaching Society’s task force on structure.

Other Professional Activities

Bangs, Brother Arthur J., F.S.C. Ph.D., counseling psychologist at the Counseling Center, is participating in a one-year training program in cognitive therapy at the Center for Cognitive Therapy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Suzanne Boyll, who is also a counseling psychologist at the Counseling Center, is following the same program.

Burke, Brother Daniel, F.S.C., Ph.D., president emeritus and professor of English and communication arts, has become part of a national editorial committee which, over the next decade, will direct the publication of a new translation of the writings of St. John Baptist de La Salle as well as a series of studies of the early history of the Christian Brothers.

Dallery, Dr. Arleen B., associate professor of philosophy, has become an outside reviewer for the State University of New York Press.

Diehl, Dr. George K., chairperson of fine arts and professor of music, has become a program annotator for the Concerto Soloists of Philadelphia.

Diment, Ronald C., director of the Resident Life Office, has been chosen to participate in Philadelphia's Community Leadership Seminar for 1984-85. CLS strives to identify current and prospective leaders of the community, provide information about the community, foster a network of informed, concerned citizens, and stimulate program participants to increase their level of community activity.

Ellis, Brother Patrick, F.S.C., Ph.D., president and professor of English and communication arts, has begun a term as secretary-treasurer of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities. He is also chairing a task force of PACU on the implementation of the "College-Going %" study.

Joglekar, Dr. Prafulla N., associate professor of management, together with Dr. Donald N. Thompson of York University, submitted a brief in July, to the Canadian government's Commission of Inquiry on the Pharmaceutical Industry. Dr. Joglekar has also been coordinating the writing and editing of several chapters of a "Handbook for the Human Service Executive," a work derived from the training sessions conducted by La Salle faculty for the SAMED program. The book should be ready by the end of the 1984-85 academic year.

Kirsch, Raymond, assistant professor of mathematical sciences, has become the final reviewer for the 2nd edition of Elliott Kofmann's PASCAL text.

Lang, James T., assistant professor of fine arts, was invited by the Doylestown Art League to act as juror for their tenth annual juried exhibit held in September.

Mollenhauer, Brother Emery C., F.S.C., Ph.D., provost and associate professor of English and communication arts, served as chairperson for the Middle States Association accrediting team visiting St. Mary's College of Maryland. St. Mary's College is a public institution within the Maryland state college system.

Perfucky, Dr. George A., associate professor of Russian, was a visiting associate professor in July, in the Department of Slavic and East European Languages and Literatures at Ohio State University.

McGinnis, Brother Michael, F.S.C., Ph.D., assistant professor of religion, will be chairperson of the Admissions Committee of the Catholic Theological Society of America for the coming year.

Rudnytzky, Dr. Leo, professor of German and Slavic languages, taught Ukrainian literature during the summer semester at the St. Clement Ukrainian Catholic University in Rome.

Seltzer, Dr. Joseph, associate professor of management, will serve on the editorial board of The Organizational Behavior Teaching Review.

Stow, Dr. George B., chairperson and professor of history, has been reviewing articles submitted for publication to Speculum and Albion.

Wine, William David, assistant professor of English and communication arts, has become the firm critic for Live On Stage magazine. He will also be serving as advisor to the La Salle Collegian.

Recent Publications

Angerosa, Dr. Nicholas F., assistant professor of Spanish, has published an article titled "Dos manifestaciones físicas en la obra de Santa Teresa de Jesus: una perspectiva vitalista" in Santa Tereas y la literatura mistica hispanica (Madrid: Editorial Seis, 1984). The book, which was edited by Manuel Criado de Val and others at the University of Madrid, is a collection of critical papers on St. Teresa of Avila and the origins of Spanish mysticism.

Barchak, Dr. Leonard J., assistant professor of English and communication arts, has published the following articles: "Discovering Communication Paradigms with Q-Methodology: Ferment or Sour Grapes?" in the July, 1984 issue of Operant Subjectivity; a review of Israel Scheffler's Science and Subjectivity in the October, 1984 issue of Operant Subjectivity; and "A Caution to the Nuclear Freeze Movement: Soviets Neither Think Nor Negotiate Like Americans" in the September 1984 issue of Russia.

Butler, Dr. James A., professor of English and communication arts, has had his text of Wordsworth's The Ruined Cottage (Cornell, 1979) selected for reprinting in the Norton Anthology of English Literature.

Clabaugh, Dr. Gary, associate professor of education, together with Dr. Preston Feden, published a "Commentary" on recent trends in teacher certification in the April 25, 1984 issue of Education Week. Another of his articles, this one titled "Revolutionizing Education: Training Developmentally Oriented Teachers," was published in the May, 1984 issue of Phi Delta Kappan. This piece was co-authored by Drs. Preston Feden and Robert Vogel. Dr. Clabaugh also had a book review of The International Dimensions of Human Rights (Greenwood Press, 1982) published in Nationalities Papers, Volume XII.

Dallery, Dr. Arleen B., associate professor of philosophy, will have a piece titled "Simone de Beauvoir and French Feminism" published in the January, 1985 issue of Hypatia.

Damanpour, Dr. Fariborz, assistant professor of management, published an article titled "Organizational Innovation and Performance: The Problem of Organizational Lag" in the September, 1984 issue of Administrative Science Quarterly. The article was co-authored by William M. Evan of the University of Pennsylvania.

Ellis, Brother Patrick, F.S.C., Ph.D., president and professor of English and communication arts, had an article, "Higher Education's Contribution to the Religious Life," in the Winter, 1984 issue of Current Issues in Catholic Higher Education.

Goedkoop, Dr. Richard J., assistant professor of English and communication arts, had a comparative review of Media Ethics (edited by Clifford Christians), Television: The Critical View (edited by Horace Newcomb), and TV the Casual Art (by Martin Williams) published in the Summer, 1984 edition of the Journal of Broadcasting.

Hannum, Dr. Howard L., associate professor of English and communication arts, had his article "Soldier's Home: Immersion Therapy and Lyric Pattern in 'Big Two-Hearted River,'" published in the Spring, 1984 issue of The Hemingway Review. He also had a note titled "Dating Hemingway's 'The Three-Day Blow' by External Evidence: The Baseball Dialogue" appear in the Summer, 1984 issue of Studies in Short Fiction.

Joglekar, Dr. Prafulla N., associate professor of management, published an article titled "Cost-Benefit Studies of Health Care Programs: Choosing Methods for Desired Results" in the September, 1984 issue of Evaluation and Health Professions. He has been invited to contribute a chapter on a typology of cost-benefit analysis for a text book to be published in Switzerland in early 1985. Dr. Morton L. Paterson of SmithKline Laboratories will join him on this project.

Kelly, Dr. Geoffrey B., professor of religion, had a review of The Martyred Christian appear in the September issue of Theological Studies. He will also have a piece titled "Denial: The Challenge to Education of the Nuclear Age" in a future issue of Narthex.

Kerlin, Dr. Michael, professor of philosophy, had an article "Liberalism and Liberation" in the Spring issue of Contemporary Philosophy. His review of David Schultenover's George Tyrrell, Mary Jo Weaver's Letters from a Modernist and David Wells' The Prophetic Theology of George Tyrrell appeared in the July, 1984 issue of The Journal of Religion. Dr. Kerlin also had a review of Louis Dupre's Marx's Critique of Culture in the Summer, 1984 issue of Theological Studies.

Lang, James T., assistant professor of fine arts, had a new series of "derelict" lithograph prints featured at the Dick Bell Gallery in Harvey Cedars, New Jersey this past summer.

McCann, Dr. John J., associate professor of foreign languages and literatures, has had his story, "A Hero by Any Other Name," accepted for publication by the Mississippi Valley Review, a literary review published by Western Illinois University. The story will appear in the Fall, 1984 issue. His one act play, "Places, Please!" will have its premiere performance at the Laurel Street Playhouse in Susquehanna, Pennsylvania in July, 1985.

Meredith, Joseph, director of the Sheekey Writing Center, has a poem titled "The Little Boy-Girl" in the Summer, 1984 issue of The Southwest Review. Another of his poems, "Pumpkin Time," will be reprinted in the 1985 Anthology of Magazine Verse and Yearbook of American Poetry. He has also had a poem called "Hippel's Wilderness" accepted for a future issue of the Painted Bride Quarterly which is published in Philadelphia.

Millard, Dr. Barbara C., professor of English and communication arts, has had her article "Sexual Contest" in Jonson's Epicoene published in Medieval and Renaissance Drama in England. Her essay, "Playing Out the Play: Actors, Teachers, and Students in the Classroom," has been accepted for publication by Shakespeare Quarterly.

Perfecky, Dr. George A., associate professor of Russian, has been invited to review R.P. Zorivchak's Frazeolohichna odynycja jak perekladoznavcha katehoriya (The Use of Phraseology in Translation) for the Slavic and East European Journal. In addition, the abstract of Dr. Perfecky's paper "The Status of the Ukrainian Language in the Ukrainian SSR," which he delivered at the Seventh World Congress of Applied Linguistics in Brussels, Belgium in August, has been published in AILA Brussels 84: Proceedings, vol. 4, pp. 1630, 1632.

Ratkus, Brother Mark J., F.S.C., Ph.D., assistant professor of economics, has had a paper titled "Women in Philippine Basic Christian Communities" accepted for inclusion in The Church and Women in the Third World. John C.B. and Ellen Webster are editors of the book, which will be published by Westminster Press in the Spring of 1985.

Rossi, Dr. John P., professor of history, had an essay on the career of S. Davis Wilson appear in the April, 1984 issue of Pennsylvania History. The full title of the essay is "S. Davis Wilson: Philadelphia's Forgotten Mayor." Dr. Rossi's article, "Farewell to Fellow-Traveling: the Waldorf Conference of March 1949," has been accepted for publication by Continuity, a historical journal. He also wrote two reviews which will appear in upcoming issues of the Catholic Historical Review. One deals with English rule over the island of Malta; the other is a biography of Lord Ripon, a nineteenth-century English statesman.

Rudnytzky, Dr. Leo, professor of German and Slavic languages, has completed his work on the Encyclopedia of 20th Century Literature (Ungar, New York, 1984). Four volumes of the Encyclopedia, which contain Dr. Rudnytzky's articles on Russian and Ukrainian literature, have been published thus far. Dr. Rudnytzky helped edit a collection of articles honoring Volodymyr Janiw, president of the Ukrainian Free University in Munich, Germany. He contributed an article titled "Franko's 'Master Jests' in Light of German Literary Theories" to this collection.

Soven, Dr. Margot, assistant professor of English and communication arts, had the following papers accepted for publication: "Reflections of a Composition Specialist," in Teaching Writing; "Teaching Writing in the Social Work Curriculum: Whose Responsibility?" co-authored by Dr. Barbara Simon, in Resources in Education; and "Evaluating Writing Programs Using the CCCC Guidelines," written with Lu Augusta of Kansas State University, in College Composition and Communication.

Stow, Dr. George B., Jr., chairperson and professor of history, had an article titled "Richard II in Thomas Walsingham's Chronicles" appear in Speculum, 59 (1984), pp 68-102. His review of The Westminster Chronicle (edited and translated by L.S. Hector and Barbara Harvey) was published in The Catholic Historical Review, 70 (1984), pp 311-13.

Sullivan, Dr. William M., associate professor of philosophy, had a book review of Richard John Neuhaus' The Naked Public Square: Religion And Democracy in America published in Commonweal, Vol. CXI, No. 14, August 10, 1984.

Wine, William David, assistant professor of English and communication arts, has had his critical essay on Satyajit Ray's Bengali film, Ashani Sanket (Distant Thunder), accepted for publication in Magill's Survey of Cinema: Foreign Film. He has also had two book reviews published in recent issues of The Philadelphia Inquirer. One dealt with Jim Haskins' Richard Pryor: A Man and His Madness, the other with Slow Fade by Rudolph Wurlitzer. His remembrance of comedian John Belushi has been accepted for publication by the Camden Courier-Post, and an interview/profile of entertainer Peter Allen is scheduled to appear in Atlantic City Magazine. St. James Press will publish several of Mr. Wine's essays on foreign and American film actors in Volume III of Films and Filmmakers. These essays discuss the work of Vittorio Gassman, Romy Schneider, Giancarlo Giannini, Claudia Cardinale, Paul Newman, Walter Brennan, Kirk Douglas, Louis Gossett, Jr., and Van Heflin.

Books Published

Kelly, Dr. Geoffrey B., professor of religion, had his book Liberating Faith published in September by Augsburg Publishing House.

Rudnytzky, Dr. Leo, professor of German and Slavic languages, has had his work, Ivan Vyschensky: An Interpretation, republished as a separate volume by the Shevchenko Scientific Society (New York, 1984). It originally appeared in 1983 as part of a Shevchenko Scientific Society collection.

Guest Appearances

Barchak, Dr. Leonard J., assistant professor of English and communication arts, delivered a revised lecture titled "Lonnot, Longfellow and Finnish Nationalism in the context of the Kalevala" at FinnFest USA, a national Finnish cultural convention, which was held at Fitchburg State College in Massachusetts. His presentation, which was accompanied by slides took place in July.

Blumenthal, Dr. Bernhardt, professor of German, read a paper titled "Das Kind im Weltbild Christine Lavants," before the German Studies Association, which met in October in Denver Colorado.

Burke, Brother Daniel, F.S.C., Ph.D., president emeritus and professor of English and communication arts, developed and presented exhibitions of books and artwork done by Christian Brothers at the Brothers' regional convocation in Moraga, California, in August.

Clabaugh, Dr. Gary K., associate professor of education, gave a lecture titled "Public Schools: A Temporary Solution?" at the Unitarian Universalist Church of the Restoration in Philadelphia in June. He also, together with Dr. Robert Vogel, delivered a paper titled "Developing A Technology of Instruction," before the international conference of the Association for Educational Communications and Technology which was held last January in Dallas, Texas.

Colhocker, Brother Lawrence J., F.S.C., associate professor of education, gave a talk on values-based curriculum development for the Catholic secondary school at the regional convocation of the Christian Brothers held at St. Mary's College in Moraga, California.

Dallery, Dr. Arleen B., associate professor of philosophy, delivered a lecture titled "Biology and the Body: Beauvoir and French Feminism" at an international conference called After the Second Sex: New Directions. The conference, which was hosted by the University of Pennsylvania, was held April 3-5.

Donnelly, Gloria, chairperson and assistant professor of nursing, gave a talk which was titled "Health Care in the 80's: Lemons into Lemonade" before the Southeastern Pennsylvania League for Nursing on October 9.

Ellis, Brother Patrick, F.S.C., Ph.D., president and professor of English and communication arts, addressed the Philadelphia Rotary Club at the Union League in August. He also sang the National Anthem at Veteran's Stadium on Big Five Night.

George, David L., assistant professor of economics, was a discussant at the Conference of Community Dimensions of Economic Enterprise sponsored by the Association for Social Economics. The proceedings of the conference, which was held at Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, June 10-12, will be published in an upcoming issue of The Review of Social Economy.

Harrington, Dr. Patricia, assistant professor of religion, will present a paper titled "The Mexican Virgin of Guadalupe: Mother of Death, Mother of Rebirth" at the national meeting of the American Academy of Religion. The convention will be held in Chicago, Illinois, December 8-11.

Hennessy, Dr. Arthur L., Jr., associate professor of history, gave a talk before the Association of Young Catholic Adults of Philadelphia on the topic of Catholics and politics.

Kellenbenz, Lt. Col. George H., professor of military science, as a member of the U.S. delegation, participated in the opening session of the Conference on Disarmament in Europe. The conference, which was held in Stockholm, Sweden from January 16 to March 17, sought to develop measures which will reduce the risk of war in Europe due to miscalculation or misunderstanding.

Kelly, Dr. Geoffrey B., professor of religion, spoke on the challenge of Christ for the 80's at the Diocesan Enrichment Days organized by the Diocese of Wilmington on October 7-8.

Lang, James T., assistant professor of fine arts, exhibited prints at the Rittenhouse Square annual outdoor show, in June, and at the annual Color Print Society exhibit held this fall at the Abington Art Center in Abington, Pennsylvania.

Miller, Dr. Lynn E., assistant professor of management, presented a paper concerning the motivation of volunteers at the Conference on Research on Volunteerism and Nonprofit Organizations. The conference, which was held in Blacksburg, Virginia, in September, was sponsored by the Association of Voluntary Action Scholars.

Rossi, Dr. John P., professor of history, will read a paper titled "Orwell and Chesterton: Two English Don Quixotes" at the Fordham University symposium on G. K. Chesterton scheduled for this coming November.

Guides Available in Counseling Center

The 1984-85 edition of the Guide to Graduate and Professional School Admissions is currently available in the Counseling Center. The faculty is encouraged to alert students contemplating graduate or professional school of its availability.

Guest Appearances (continued)

Seltzer, Dr. Joseph, associate professor of management, made the following presentations: together with Dr. Radharao Chaganti, he delivered a paper titled "Strategies in Human Service Agencies" at the 1984 annual meeting of the Academy of Management; at the 1984 annual meeting of the Eastern Academy of Management he and Drs. Boyer and Weiner of Drexel University presented a paper titled "Red and Blue: An Exercise in Personal Awareness"; he also gave a session on "listening" before a group formed to promote improved management of cultural organizations. He will serve as a group leader during 1984-85 for this program which is conducted by the Greater Philadelphia Cultural Alliance and the Nonprofit Management Center at La Salle.

Soven, Dr. Margot, assistant professor of English and communication arts, served as facilitator at the Institute on Writing and Higher Order Reasoning held at the University of Chicago in June.

Stow, Dr. George B., chairperson and professor of history, presented a paper titled "Richard II in Jean Froissart's Chroniques" at the 19th annual Medieval Studies Conference held at Western Michigan University in May.

Sullivan, Dr. William M., associate professor of philosophy, delivered a paper titled "Educating Toward the Common Good: Reconnecting the Humanities and the Social Sciences" at the Clio Project Conference held August 21-23 at the University of California at Berkeley.

Szabat, Dr. Kathryn A., assistant professor of management, will present a paper at the TMS/ORSA joint national meeting being held in Dallas, Texas on November 26-28. The paper, co-authored by Dr. Fariborz Damanpour, is titled "The Interdependencies of Types of Innovation."

Troxell, Dr. Joseph R., associate professor of quantitative analysis, served as program vice-chairperson at the annual Quality Congress of the American Society for Quality Control held in Chicago, Illinois on May 14-16.

Wine, William David, assistant professor of English and communication arts, appeared last August on the WDAS-FM public affairs radio program, "The Creativity Hour," talking about the image of blacks in contemporary films. In September, he was a guest on WZGO-FM's "Both Sides Now." The topic under discussion was the movie rating code and its latest designation, PG-13.

Workshops

Craig, Barbara H., lecturer in English and communication arts, presented four, two-hour workshops on business writing to managers and administrators of the University of Pennsylvania. The series, called "Writing for Results," ran in July.

Dallery, Dr. Arleen B., associate professor of philosophy, held a workshop titled "Professional Loyalties and Moral Dilemmas" in the Ethical Issues in Health Care series sponsored by Continuing Professional Education at La Salle.

Flynn, Elizabeth W., coordinator of ministry programs, gave a series of training sessions in discussion leadership to parish ecumenical representatives and other leaders working in inter-religious dialogue. The program, held September 15-19, was under the auspices of the Cardinal's Commission on Human Relations.

Kelly, Dr. Geoffrey B., professor of religion, led a workshop for the faculty of North Park College and the Chicago cluster of theological schools on the challenge of education in the nuclear age.

Kirsch, Raymond, assistant professor of mathematical sciences, participated in a Writing-Across-the-Curriculum workshop offered at La Salle by Margot Sovén. He also attended a Wang Institute for Graduate Study course on the implementation of relational data base systems. The course was taught by Mike Stonebraker and Gene Wong, principle designers of INGRES, a relational system that runs under UNIX.

McGinniss, Brother Michael, F.S.C., Ph.D., assistant professor of religion, led a workshop for the pastoral counseling faculty at Loyola College of Baltimore. The workshop, "Theological Reflection and Pastoral Counseling," was held October 5-7.

Seltzer, Dr. Joseph, associate professor of management, together with Dr. Steven Meisel, presented a workshop entitled "More Short Experiential Exercises" at the Organization Behavior Teaching Conference held in Boise, Idaho in May.

Soven, Dr. Margot, assistant professor of English and communication arts, offered a Writing-Across-the-Curriculum workshop at Welsh Valley Junior High School in June.

Troxell, Dr. Joseph R., associate professor of quantitative analysis, attended an intensive, five-week program to study the teaching of information system courses. The program was sponsored by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business and was held in July and August at the University of Minnesota.

Van Rossum, Dr. Marijke, assistant professor of mathematical sciences, attended a workshop June 4-8, titled "Teaching Mathematics using A.P.L." at Salisbury State College in Maryland. The workshop was conducted by Dr. K. E. Iverson, the inventor of A.P.L., and his collaborator Dr. D. L. Orth.

Wine, William David, assistant professor of English and communication arts, conducted a two-day workshop in June on team building for front-line supervisors in the New Jersey Civil Service Department. Also, in June, he led a one-day workshop on communications for middle managers in the New Jersey Human Services Department. In May, he participated in a series of Writing-Across-the-Curriculum workshops at La Salle.

Art Museum Exhibits Recent Acquisitions

New exhibits in La Salle's art museum this fall include several recent acquisitions: a major painting by America's foremost black painter, Henry Tanner (1859-1937); sketches for murals by Philadelphia artist Violet Oakley (1874-1961), in an exhibition presented by the museum of "Women in the Bible"; a portrait by Cecilia Beaux (1855-1942), an early teacher at the Pennsylvania Academy of Art.

The museum staff has also assisted in coordinating the exhibition "Carroll and Alice" being presented by the Donglomur Foundation in the La Salle Union through November.

Faculty members can purchase the new catalogue of La Salle's art collection for half-price, at the desk at the entrance of the museum. They may also be interested in a specially priced selection of original contemporary prints which were chosen by the prestigious judging panels of the International Graphic Arts Society.

Conferences Attended

Bader, Edward J., assistant professor of accounting, attended the annual convention of the American Accounting Association held August 14-18 in Toronto, Canada. Walter J. Kaiser, associate professor of accounting, also attended the convention. While there, they participated in two, day-long seminars on integrating computers into the accounting curriculum.

Belzer, Dr. Norbert F., associate professor of biology, attended the meetings of the American Institute of Biological Sciences in August in Colorado State University in Fort Collins, Colorado. There, he went to a one-day workshop on the use of computers in bio-education.

Boyll, Dr. Suzanne, counseling psychologist at the Counseling Center went to the American Psychological Association convention held in Toronto, August 24-28.

Filicetti, Dr. Peter J., assistant director of the Counseling Center and associate professor of psychology, went to a conference titled "Alcohol Programs on Campus: Fact, Fad or Fantasy?" held at Villanova University on October 2. Marianne Herzog, counseling intern at the Counseling Center, also attended the program which was sponsored by the Delaware Valley College Consortium on Drugs and Alcohol. Dr. Filicetti and Ms. Herzog also attended the 8th annual Young Adult Symposium of the Horsham Foundation. The topic of the conference was the young woman in treatment.

Herzog, Marianne, counseling intern at the Counseling Center, attended the Mid-Atlantic National Women's Studies Association conference hosted by La Salle on October 13-14.

Kirsch, Raymond, assistant professor of mathematical sciences, attended the following conferences: an expert systems symposium sponsored by the Association of Computing Machinery, at which Dr. Timothy Finin of the University of Pennsylvania spoke on intelligent, on-line, help facilities; the IEEE Artificial Intelligence symposium held in Uniondale, Long Island. This was a joint military/industry effort to present the current Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) position on AI research, particularly in the area of expert systems; the 1984 International Conference on Parallel Processing held in Bellaire, Michigan. At this conference he attended tutorials on interconnection networks for parallel and distributed processing and on logic programming and parallel processing.

Schreiner, Dr. Frank J., director of the Counseling Center, attended the conference of the Association of University and Counseling Center Directors held in New Orleans on October 21-25. On October 3, he was present at a program entitled "The Alcoholic Marriage" presented by Dr. Martin Goldberg as part of a continuing education series sponsored by the Albert Einstein Medical Center.

Sullivan, Dr. William M., associate professor of philosophy, attended the following conferences: "Hegel and Whitehead: An International Symposium" at Fordham University in New York City on June 1-6; the "Institute on Writing and Higher Order Reasoning" at the University of Chicago on May 13-16.