TUITION REDUCTION FOR CATHOLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS

Earlier this semester, University Council approved the following policy statement:

"Persons employed as full-time teachers in any of the Parish or Archdiocesan Schools or in any private Catholic school in the Delaware Valley area may receive a 30% tuition reduction for courses taken in the Evening Division and Summer Sessions on a part-time basis (not to exceed 9 semester credit hours) and a 40% reduction for graduate courses taken in the Graduate Education Program, the Bilingual/Bicultural Program, the Human Services Psychology Program, the Pastoral Counseling and Marriage and Family Therapy Program, or the Graduate Business Program.* A letter from the Principal verifying full-time employment for each semester of La Salle enrollment is required.

*The Graduate Religious Education Program is not included on this list. That programs tuition is already discounted because of La Salle's commitment to religious education."

Since many of our faculty and staff are acquainted with teachers in Catholic schools, we bring this new policy to your attention in the hope that you can alert those acquaintances to this opportunity.

The Next Time You See a Beer or Wine Commercial...

Remember These Sobering Facts:

- By the age of 18, a child will have seen 100,000 beer commercials.
- Two out of five children will have tried wine coolers before age 13.
- Alcohol is the leading cause of death of those between the ages of 16 and 24.

These are facts you're not apt to find in the carefree, exciting, romantic world of commercials.

So when next you're asked to buy America's favorite dangerous drug, remember...and don't allow your future to be sucked into a bottle.

Number One Drug Problem

HHS Secretary Louis Sullivan urged a conference of state and local drug officials not to neglect "the number one drug problem among youth today — the abuse of alcohol." He pointed out that alcohol is twice as popular among college students as marijuana, and over five times as popular as cocaine. "These facts remind us that, as we wage war against the use of illegal drugs, we must also resolve to combat the illicit and irresponsible use of legal drugs."
