RE: Parking and Furniture Delivery

Sometime during the first three weeks of August a large furniture delivery will be made to classrooms in Holroyd Hall and Room 200 of Olney Hall. This furniture is being purchased under the HUD grant awarded to the University to support the science and mathematics departments. This delivery may disrupt parking behind Holroyd and Olney Halls lot since large trucks (possibly tractor-trailers) will need access to these areas. At times areas may be blocked off. It is also possible that people may be contacted to move cars if the trucks cannot maneuver behind and around buildings. Please plan for alternative parking if it should become necessary.

Thanks in advance for your patience. As Penndot says, we must suffer "short term pain for long term gain." If you have any questions, please contact me or Mr. Robert Levins, Director of Security.

Resident Life Office

July 15, 1996

Dear Faculty Member,

I am writing to request your participation in an exciting new tradition on campus. It began over a year ago with the help of a few brave faculty members and is known as "The Last Lecture Series". Many Resident Life Staff programming efforts are conceived to be an integral part of the educational and academic support services at La Salle. As such, I believe that it is important to maximize the opportunities for students to interact with faculty and staff in an out-of-the-classroom setting within their residential community. I believe there are definite links between learning and having fun.

The idea behind "The Last Lecture Series" is for the presenter to share what he or she would imagine as the last lecture of his or her career. This could encompass personal and/or professional experiences or reflections from a "lifetime" of knowledge and scholarship. The format is flexible and I encourage you to be as creative as you like. Besides sharing your insight with the La Salle community, this program will allow you to interact with students in a different environment and will give you a wider perspective of their experience at La Salle.

The program was offered weekly and received terrific response from both students and faculty. If you missed out on your chance to present last year or would like to do an encore performance please contact me at X2133. I would like to start scheduling presenters now for the 1996-97 academic year, so that we can start the year off with a bang. I look forward to hearing from you soon!

Most Sincerely,

Jennifer Cope
