BROTHER JOSEPH F. BURKE REAPPOINTED PRESIDENT OF LA SALLE FOR ANOTHER FIVE-YEAR TERM

PHILADELPHIA -- Brother Joseph F. Burke, F.S.C., Ph.D., has been unanimously reappointed president of La Salle University for a five-year term that begins in 1997. The announcement came from John J. Shea, who chairs the university's Board of Trustees.

Brother Burke, a licensed clinical psychologist and formerly La Salle's provost, became the first alumnus to be president of La Salle on May 7, 1992.

"The board is delighted with Brother Burke's superlative performance," Shea said in a May 14 interview from his office at Spiegel, Inc., where he serves as vice-chairman, president and chief executive officer. "He has dealt with the dilemma of declining contributions to higher education from both federal and state government sources. He's faced enrollment pressures. Working families increasingly find it difficult to pay today's tuition costs. Those pressures hit full impact as he began his duties."

The board chair noted that Brother Burke's first-term appointment had come about after the unanticipated resignation of Brother Burke's predecessor, Brother Patrick Ellis, F.S.C., Ph.D., who left La Salle to become president of Catholic University.

"Brother Burke really had to learn on the job," Shea said. "But he faced extraordinary adversity very well. He guided the university through a necessary right-sizing. For the 1995-96 academic year we had one of the highest freshman enrollments in many years. He's been heavily involved in academic concerns. He's been at the forefront of aligning La Salle with the new Atlantic 10 Conference. We belong in this conference. Atlantic 10 schools are close to La Salle geographically and share our values. This change has brought about a great improvement."

"Brother Burke also initiated 18 months ago a comprehensive long-term planning process for La Salle," Shea said. "This is the first time this has happened. Thanks to Brother Burke, the trustees feel La Salle is well-positioned for future development and growth."
