CAMPUS NEWS

LA SALLE UNIVERSITY'S WEEKLY INFORMATION CIRCULAR

August 27, 1999

Dear Colleagues,

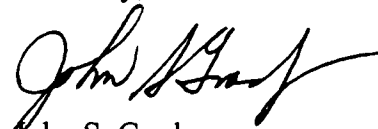

As we welcome the Class of 2003 I would like to share with you some information on the Honors Program class and extend words of appreciation to some people most instrumental in bringing this group to our campus.

Back in September when recruiting began in earnest, I had set a goal of enrolling between 56 and 64 Honors Program students without sacrificing the standards which have served us so well in the past. These enrollment parameters were dictated by a variety of factors which were based on our available resources. I am most pleased to be able to report an enrollment of 64 students in the Honors Program Class of 2003, with seven students on a waiting list (which I did not have to use) and twelve students being rejected for admission. This result was achieved while keeping the median SAT score of 1320, just about the historic (since re-centering) level. The scores top out at 1520 and one student scored a perfect 800 in the math test. Five of the students held the rank of number one in their graduating class and 60% of the students ranked in the top ten of their classes (of those students coming from high schools that publish class rank). The thirty-nine women and twenty-five men graduated from forty-five different high schools. Twenty-seven of the new students will be majoring in arts, nineteen in science (fourteen in biology, the most frequently cited major), ten in business, one in nursing, with the other seven still undecided. Fifty-nine will be residing on campus.

As always, a debt of gratitude is owed to Bob Voss and his staff in the admissions office. Their dedication to bringing the La Sallian message and philosophy to some of the top seniors was quite frequently the first step in what would become a matriculated Honors Program student. The faculty who gave so graciously of their time when asked to meet with these students and discuss the advantages of majoring in their discipline at La Salle sent a decidedly positive message to these families. This type of activity continues to be, for me, the most effective recruiting instrument I have.

As a firm believer in continuing with processes that work, I will most likely be calling upon both groups again this year to assist in bringing to La Salle classes that will generate a message that is as positive as I hope this message is. In the meanwhile, "thanks" for your continued assistance and every best wish for an exceptional academic year.

Sincerely,

John S. Grady

Director, Honors Program

Re: Change of Location for Treatment of Life Threatening Work Related Injuries

Due to the recent restructuring at Germantown Community Health Services, the Department of Emergency Medicine at Germantown Hospital will no longer be able to provide life-threatening emergency care to our employees. Therefore, if you are faced with a life-threatening emergency during the scope of your employment, you will need to seek immediate treatment at Albert Einstein Medical Center's emergency room, located at York and Tabor Road.

All non-life-threatening work related injuries will continue to be treated through Continuum Healthcare at 2 Penn Boulevard.

Please contact the Human Resources Office if you have any questions at 951-1052.

Many members of the university community have expressed interest in having a coordinated effort to assist the people of Turkey in their time of great need.

Through Dr. Joe Ugras, we have been trying to make contact with the two schools conducted by the Christian Brothers in Istanbul — St. Joseph's and Lycée Saint Michel. This is being done in an effort to make a direct connection, in time of need, between us and them as Lasallian institutions. We will be certain to keep you informed of what we learn about these schools and how we can address their current needs.

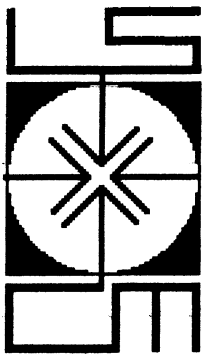

In the meantime, any monetary donations you wish to make can be sent to us (Campus Mail, Box 841). Later we will send what is donated either to these schools, or to an agency in Turkey which they suggest.
