NICHOLAS A. GIORDANO
PRESIDENT

June 23, 1999

TO: Faculty, Administrators, Alumni, Support Staff, Students,
Parents, and Friends

FROM: Nicholas A. Giordano

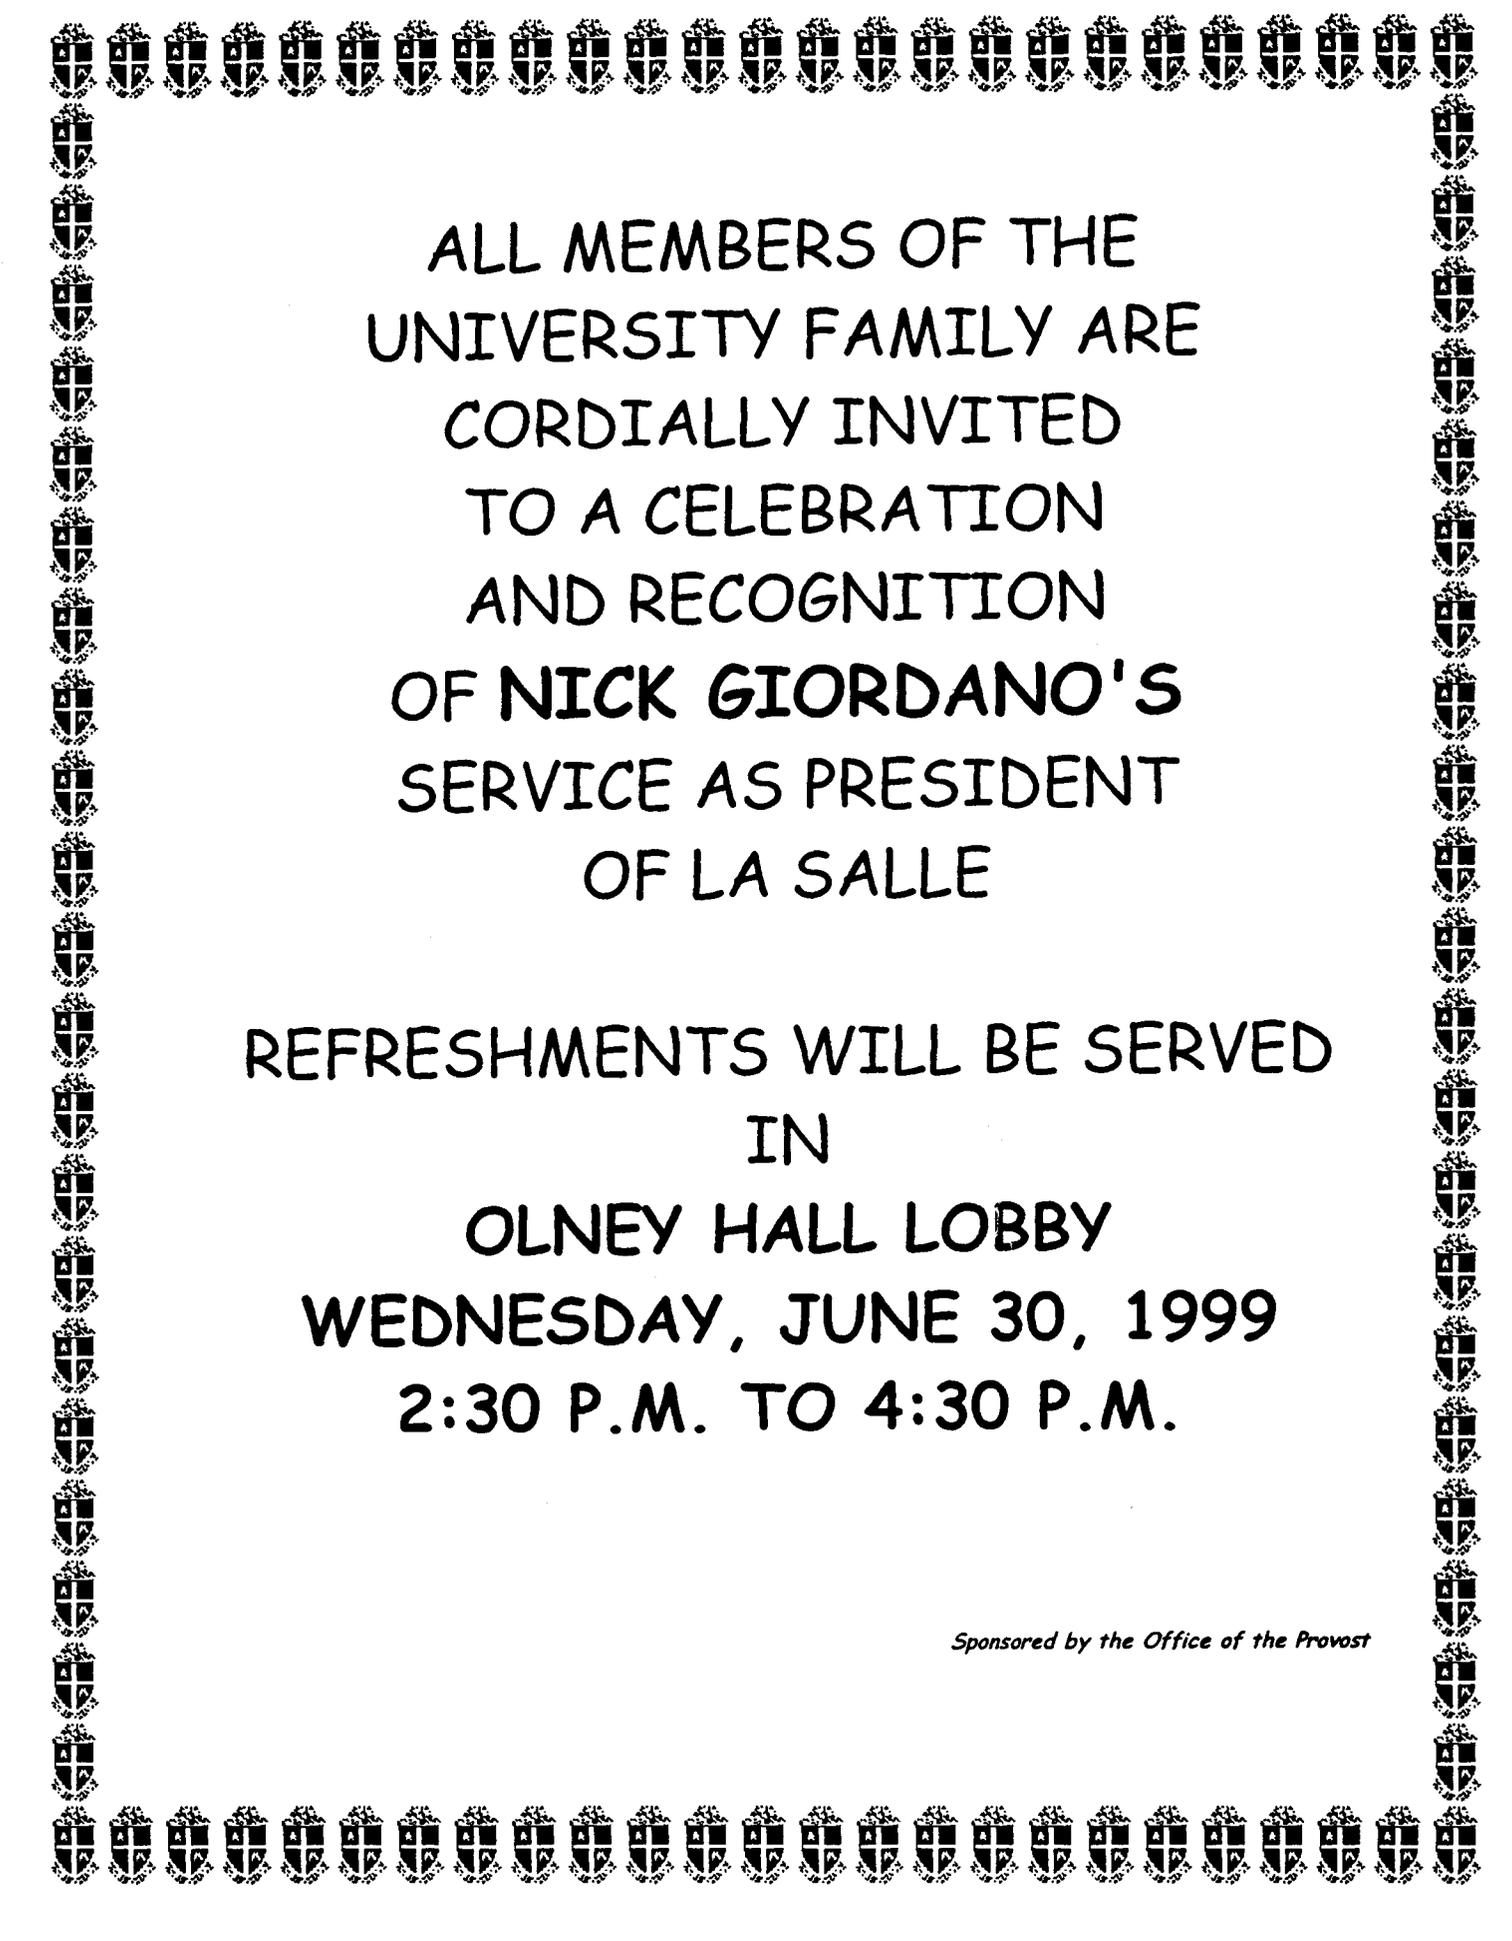

It has been a rapid but rewarding twelve months in the world of academia. La Salle is such a special place with so many special people. I have been privileged to have the opportunity to work with you towards achieving the ever evolving and continuing mission of our beloved La Salle. We can all taste the pride when we witness the young men and women who often are the first in their family to become a part of University life and then observe their progress as they mature into adults and walk on that stage to receive their diplomas.

All of you play a part in this metamorphosis. Whether you are the recruiter they first meet; or the one who receives their tuition payment; or the English Professor who opens their minds to the beauty of poetry; or the finance instructor who taps into latent market dynamics; or even the person who serves them a slice of pizza with a big smile - you have all contributed to their growth.

Your dedication and commitment to La Salle have not only made my job as President easier, but they have also enhanced my appreciation of the critical importance of the team effort. Our greatest challenge is to communicate to the unknowing, the treasure that is La Salle.

Thank you from the bottom of my heart for allowing me to serve this great university and to participate on the La Salle team.

TO: The Campus Community
FROM: Richard Nigro
DATE: June 25, 1999

During the past semester we have undertaken work to improve presentation facilities in the Rodden Theatre. That project is now complete.

We have scheduled a demonstration program of the new technology at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, June 29, for selected departments. Since the enhanced presentation facilities maybe be of interest to a broader segment of faculty and staff, I am extending an open invitation to the program to all members of the campus community. The program will last about twenty-five minutes and a Q & A session will follow.

I hope many of you will have the opportunity to join us in the Rodden Theatre at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, June 29.

Thank you.

This month's book:

Angela's Ashes by Frank McCourt

"When I look back on my childhood I wonder how I managed to survive at all. It was, of course, a miserable childhood: the happy childhood is hardly worth your while. Worse than the ordinary miserable childhood is the miserable Irish childhood, and worse yet is the miserable Irish Catholic childhood."

So begins the luminous memoir of Frank McCourt, born in Depression-era Brooklyn to Irish immigrants and raised in the slums of Limerick, Ireland. Frank's mother, Angela, has no money to feed the children since Frank's father, Malachy, rarely works, and when he does he drinks his wages. Yet Malachy—exasperating, irresponsible and beguiling—does nurture in Frank an appetite for the one thing he can provide: a story. Frank lives for his father's tales of Cuchulain, who saved Ireland, and of the Angel on the Seventh Step, who brings his mother babies. Perhaps it is this story that accounts for Frank's survival.

Wearing rags for diapers, begging a pig's head for Christmas dinner and gathering coal from the roadside to light a fire, Frank endures poverty, near-starvation and the casual cruelty of relatives and neighbors—yet lives to tell his tale with eloquence, exuberance and remarkable forgiveness. Angela's Ashes, imbued on every page with Frank McCourt's astounding humor and compassion, is a glorious book that bears all the marks of a classic.
