Academic Affairs Committee
Minutes of the meeting on March 25, 1999

Present: Megan Barnett, Gregory Bruce, Evelyn Cogan, Nancy Youngblood, Annie Hounsokou, Prafulla Joglekar, Gerald Johnson, Ann Mickle, Barbara Millard, Zane Wolf

- Minutes of the March 18, 1999 were approved (6 Yes, 0 No, 1 Abstain).
- Dean Zane Wolf formally presented the School of Nursing's Graduate Program in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology. She highlighted a number of points from the proposal document, including:
  - The demand for qualified Speech-Language Pathologists and Audiologist is growing rapidly due to such factors as growth in elderly population, increased survival rate for premature infants as well as stroke and trauma victims, and the entitlements created by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act of 1997.
  - In the past, a Bachelor's degree was seen as the qualifying degree for clinical practice in the field. However, today a Masters degree is seen as essential.
  - The proposed program is a daytime five-year program culminating in a Masters degree. It offers two tracks of specialization. One in Speech-Language Pathology and the other in Audiology.
  - Graduates of the program could be expected to earn average salaries of $43,000 in today's dollars.
  - A survey by Steve Thorpe suggests that there will be adequate pool of prospective students for such a program if offered by La Salle.
  - The program builds on La Salle's current strengths in the education, psychology, science and nursing programs.
  - While the program would require substantial investment in new equipment and new faculty, budget projections (based on discounted tuition and salaries including benefits) indicate that the program would provide handsome returns within a four-year period.
  - There is also substantial potential for foundation support and federal grants for research and tuition reimbursement.
  - Using the information from relevant accreditation bodies, the nursing school has carefully designed the program's curriculum including specific course descriptions and a three-year plan for course sequencing and rotation.
- During the subsequent discussion, the Provost and Dean Wolf made several additional points, including:
  - This is La Salle's first attempt at a five-year graduate program. If this program is approved by the University Council, because we do not have universal charter for graduate programs, we will have to seek approval from Pennsylvania State (both, the Department of Education and the Department of Nursing Education). However, Provost and the Dean do not anticipate this to be a major hurdle.

- At present, no thought has been given to the possibility that some students, in their third or fourth year of the program, may want to opt for a bachelor's degree only. More work needs to be done in this area. Perhaps we can offer a "Bachelor's in Speech Studies."
- At present there are no plans to allow a student pursuing some other degree to select a minor in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology.
- A double-major with Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology as one of the two majors may be possible, however it may require considerable and careful planning.
- Once a Director for this program is in place, a number of implementation issues will have to be worked out -- e.g.,

The need to maintain a 3.00 GPA for students in this graduate program as against the standard undergraduate requirement of a 2.00 GPA.

Enrollment services and Residence Halls will have to come up with new policies to accommodate this program. Current policies are based on a four-year undergraduate program.

Some curriculum and sequencing refinements will have to be made. e.g., Is Math 120 (Calculus) a prerequisite for the Physics course included in this program or can the students take a non-calculus-based Physics course?

- At the end of this discussion, the proposal for the Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Program was approved (9 Yes, 0 No, 0 Abstain).
- The provost listed and elaborated on a number of agenda items for future meetings of the Academic Affairs Committee this year, including:
  - Review of the Program Review Reports from the various Arts and Science Clusters.
  - Scheduling and rostering policies that would maximize the use of existing facilities.
  - The calendar for 2000-2001 and beyond.
- The meeting adjourned at 4:40 PM.

Respectfully submitted,

Prafulla Joglekar

From: John S. Grady, for the Faculty Fellowship Committee

Re: Competition for Fulbright, Marshall, and Rhodes Fellowships in the Fall term of 1999

Each of the major national fellowship competitions – Fulbright, Marshall, and Rhodes – has been moving their application deadlines earlier into the Fall term. For the coming year, these deadlines will occur in early to mid-October. This has forced the Fellowship Committee to address the need to have potential candidates return to the campus in September well along in the application process. We ask your assistance in this endeavor.

Please review the records of students you advise and or students majoring in your department who will be graduating in May of 2000 and whom you believe might be potential fellowship candidates. To be realistic, these candidates should have the following GPA as they enter senior year:

Marshall: requires a minimum of 3.75; suggests a 3.9 as more realistic

Rhodes: suggests a minimum of 3.9

Fulbright: suggests a Dean's List standing, but a 3.0 minimum would be considered

Letters have been sent to all Dean's List students who are on target to graduate in May of 2000, alerting them to a meeting that will be held on Thursday, May 6th. What I would ask of you at this time is to forward to me the names and local addresses of any students you believe should be made aware of these opportunities. If they were not at the meeting, I will contact them and make sure they have all the necessary materials. If possible, before you send along a name I would ask that you consult with the student to ascertain if there is interest on his or her part in any of these fellowships. Names and local addresses may be forwarded to me via campus phone (Ext. 1360), mail (Box 322) or e-mail.

We must get these students started on this process over the summer if they are to compete in any realistic manner for these awards. Your help will be most appreciated.

THE SUMMER INSTITUTE FOR ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

*(Formally known as the Institute of Language and Culture)
Still doesn't ring a bell? Well, read on.*

Here are the details. For the eighth consecutive year, La Salle University will offer a five-week intensive "English as a Second/Foreign Language" summer program. The program will run from July 3rd to August 4th.

This comprehensive program is for teenagers or adults who wish to increase their proficiency in English as well as explore cross-cultural issues for a better understanding of the English language.

The participants will enjoy a well-balanced program which offers a serious yet relaxed academic environment, opportunities for recreation, and weekend excursions to New York City, Washington, D.C., the Jersey shore and more. Each day the students will benefit from small class sizes and dedicated teachers. In the afternoon, laboratory exercises will prepare each student to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). The program will complement any previous ESL/EFL experience they may have, since the instruction is tailored to fit the needs and abilities of the students.

- ◉ Do you know anyone who might be interested?
- ◉ Or would you be interested in hosting a student for the "Host Family Weekend" on July 16-18?

If so, please contact Nicholas Coggins at 951-1561. To learn more about the program or to request a brochure, simply leave a message and I will return your call as soon as possible. Thank you.

Cold Mountain By Charles Frazier

"Charles Frazier's debut novel, Cold Mountain, is the story of a very long walk. In the waning months of the Civil War, a wounded Confederate veteran named Inman gets up from his hospital bed and begins the long journey back to his home in the remote hills of North Carolina. Along the way he meets rogues and outlaws, Good Samaritans and vigilantes, people who help and others who hinder, but through it all Inman's aim is true: his one goal is to return to Cold Mountain and to Ada, the woman he left behind. The object of his affection, meanwhile, has problems of her own. Raised in the rarified air of Charleston society, Ada was brought to the backwoods of Cold Mountain by her father, a preacher who came to the country for his health. Even after her father's death, Ada remains there, partly to wait for Inman, but partly because she senses her destiny lies not in the city but in the North Carolina Blue Ridge.

Cold Mountain is the story of two parallel journeys: Inman's physical trek across the American landscape and Ada's internal odyssey toward an understanding of herself. What makes Frazier's novel so satisfying is the depth of detail surrounding both journeys. Frazier based this story on family history, and in the characters of Inman and Ada he has paid a rich compliment to their historical counterparts. Cold Mountain is, quite simply, a wonderful book."

SALVAGES

Poems by Claude Koch

In honor of the eightieth birthday of English professor emeritus Claude Koch, the La Salle University Art Museum is proud to publish Salvages, a booklet containing forty-six poems selected from the many hundred published during Claude's writing career.

Here are poems about family, friends, Germantown, the Jersey shore, war, paintings, La Salle, and much more.

Of Salvages, J. D. McClatchy (editor of The Yale Review), writes: "Claude Koch's poems, for over half a century now, have shown a rare regard for the bright detail and its spiritual shadow. Exact of phrase, crisp of form, Salvages gleams. Koch's gift to us all—so humane, so heartening—is to be cherished."

Suggested Donation is $10.00. Checks, made out to La Salle University Art Museum, should go to Jim Butler, English Department. Proceeds will be used to purchase an art work in Claude Koch's name.
