It's Time To Tee Off

Once again it's time to take those golf clubs out of the closet and get ready for an exciting day of golf, while helping the University provide a Lasallian education to Tomorrow's leaders.

On Monday, April 22nd, the Fourth Annual President's Cup Golf Tournament will be held at the Blue Bell Country Club in Blue Bell, Pennsylvania. In addition to great golf, there will be a luncheon and dinner, as well as opportunities to win great prizes, featuring a golf trip for four to Ireland, or $10,000 cash. Proceeds help to provide financial aid for deserving students.

Even if you're not a golfer, you can still be part of the action by sponsoring a tee, green, or golf cart.

Of course, the President's Cup would not be complete without it's Raffle. This year's Raffle features five great prizes, including the trip to Ireland.

For information on registration, sponsorships, and raffle tickets please call the Office for University Advancement x1539 or e-mail gordon@lasalle.edu.

Don't delay! This event is always a sellout.

Campus News is distributed weekly to foster communication and encourage information sharing among University departments. Something to think about from UMAS & the Project on Justice and Society

On Monday evening, March 25th, a Prayer Service with the theme of FORGIVENESS was held in the De La Salle Chapel. It was scheduled as part of ANTI-HATE WEEK. Both those who were able to attend and those who were not might want to use sections of that Prayer Service as grounding for their own meditation on this important though very difficult gospel call to be forgiving.

As believers and followers of Jesus, we must forgive others. As Americans, we must forgive the terrorists of September 11. As Lasallians, we must forgive the intolerant on our campus. As persons, we must ask for forgiveness for our own failings. Pope John Paul II has told us:

“No peace without justice,
no justice without forgiveness.”

Dear God, how shall we forgive those who have sinned cruelly against us, or pardon all trespasses, all bad will? We know ‘whose sins we shall forgive, they are forgiven’ — but how can we learn to forgive? Should we begin by counting blessings: the gifts we have received in such rich measure, the precious persons, the precious days, the exceeding wealth of life and promise in which we share, gifts as rich as gold, frankincense and myrrh, rich enough for royalty? In such a gracious world, how can we not be gracious? So we do pray to be able to say: Forgiveness to our debtors! Glory to our enemies! — so that all our own debts may be forgiven, and our own anger transformed. May all our enemies thrive, prosper, and enjoy this lovely earth. They have enough regrets; need they also regret they injured us? They most probably “know not what they do.” We wish them — and ourselves — pardon and joy.

O God, we praise you for the multitude of women, men, young people and children who are seeking to be witnesses of peace, trust and reconciliation throughout the world.
May we be held in their number.
We make our prayer through Christ our Lord.
Amen!

29 March 2002

For those who shop at Genuardi's, Genuardi's Family Markets are running a community service special between 1 April and 1 May. During this period, they will reimburse participants in its "Community Cash Back Program" at the rate of 2% for their cash register receipts. This twice the usually reimbursement rate and presents an excellent opportunity for the AODP to get a little extra "working capital."

Please send your receipts to the AODP in McShain Hall via campus mail or drop them off when passing by...and don't forget, we are collecting Acme cash register taps now too!

In advance, thank you for your assistance with this project

“Educational Technology: A New Grammar for 21st Century Teachers”

Wednesday, April 3rd at 3:00 PM in Room 310 of the La Salle Union

With increased technological awareness in our nation’s schools, future LaSalle students will be arriving eager to apply their talents to college course work. Our challenge as university professors is to develop our ability to weave educational technology into meaningful instruction. Dr. Sweeder will propose a newer and broader definition and model of educational technology and explore ways of adopting this definition and model to engage our students in new ways, refine our pedagogy, and better prepare ourselves – and our students – for this still-new millennium.

Anger & Aggression: Assessment and Approach to Treatment

Raymond A. DiGiuseppe, Ph.D.
Professor & Director – Graduate Programs in School Psychology
St. John's University, New York
Director of Professional Education – Albert Ellis Institute for Rational Emotive Behavior Therapy

Friday, April 12, 2002
9:30 am – 12:30 pm
Newtown, Bucks County Campus

Dr. Raymond DiGiuseppe earned his Ph.D. from Hofstra University and completed a Post Doctoral Fellowship at the Institute for Rational Emotive Behavior Therapy with Dr. Albert Ellis. His current work involves the assessment and treatment of anger problems, the therapeutic alliance with children and adolescents, and the integration of cognitive and systemic therapies.

Anger and its disorders have been avoided by the mental health community. Clinicians experience uncertainty when faced with anger clients. This presentation will explore what we know about anger and will scientifically draw implications for assessment, diagnosis, and treatment. Other topics to be addressed include the diagnosis of angry clients and the new criteria for anger disorders. Existing assessment strategies will be reviewed. Each will be discussed along with the advantages and disadvantages of each strategy. The integration of cognitive restructuring, exposure, relaxation, and assertiveness training will also be presented.

EMPIRICALLY SUPPORTED TREATMENT
The Need to Justify Your Approach to Working With Clients

Frank L. Gardner, Ph.D.
Director Psy.D. Program in Clinical Psychology

Dr. Frank Gardner earned his Ph.D. in School-Community Psychology from Hofstra University. He holds the position of team psychologist for a number of professional sports teams. Dr. Gardner is the former Program Director of the Sport-Exercise Psychology Program at the Arizona School of Professional Psychology and he currently works as a consultant with North Shore Hospital in New York. Much of Dr. Gardner's work has included the areas of performance enhancement and dysfunction, consultation in professional sports and business, and psychological assessment and team building in business and industry.

Fueled by both its own empirical tradition and pressures from managed care, organized psychology has begun the arduous process of defining best practices in the treatment of a wide range of disorders across the lifespan. This presentation will detail the history of the evidence-based movement in psychology with particular emphasis on the work of the APA, Division 12 (Clinical Psychology) Task Force on the Development and Dissemination of Empirically Supported Psychological Treatments. An overview of the current EST list and its implications for education, training, and supervision of psychologists-in-training will be discussed. In addition, the implications for the EST movement for ethical clinical practice, risk management for psychologists, and future psychotherapy research will be discussed in depth.
