The Writing Fellows Program

- If you interested in the assistance of a Writing Fellow for the fall, 2003 please return the tear-off by Monday, June 9, 2003
- Writing Fellows read the drafts of papers you assign in one of your courses and give students one-on-one assistance with their writing. They read the drafts, write comments, and see each student in a short conference.
- Writing Fellows' assisted courses should include at least two papers (3-7 pages long) written for a grade.
- The first drafts should be due no sooner than the end of the 4th week of the semester. The last set of drafts should be due no later than the 12th week of the semester.
- All students in Writing Fellows' assisted courses are required to participate in the program.

OFFICE OF THE DEAN

Campus Community

Dear Colleagues:

Because of significant reductions in financial support from the federal government and other funding sources, the La Salle Neighborhood Nursing Center (LSNNC) at Hill Creek (Rising Sun and Adams Avenues) will, very regretfully, begin to discontinue its primary care services effective June 30, 2003. As a result, LSNNC personnel are working with patients to find appropriate alternative primary care providers. At the same time, La Salle is reaching out to other organizations to determine their interest in and capability for maintaining primary care services at Hill Creek.

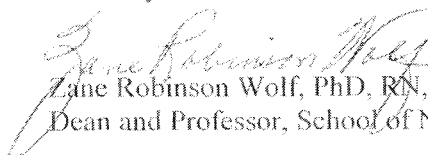

For approximately 10 years, La Salle was able to offer the primary care services to the community thanks to support from external funding sources, including the Independence Foundation, the Patricia Kind Family Foundation, the United States Department of Health and Human Services, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the City of Philadelphia.

Despite La Salle's very best efforts to secure new sources of support for primary care services, the University has not been able to raise the funds necessary to continue these operations. The LSNNC at Hill Creek, for example, has twice applied to attain Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC) status. FQHC status would have made the LSNNC at Hill Creek eligible for Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement, which would have met the needs of the majority of Hill Creek residents. While the most recent application, in December 2002, received an "excellent" rating, the federal government did not fund our proposal. In light of all this, a task force of University faculty and administrators working on the LSNNC funding issue for the past year and a half has now concluded that sufficient external funding to sustain primary care services is unlikely.

However, the LSNNC remains committed to assisting the community by continuing to provide public health initiatives in Philadelphia and Bucks County, subject to continued funding through grants and contracts. These include programs in childhood lead poisoning prevention, immunizations, substance abuse prevention, health promotion for first-time mothers, and self-esteem programs for 9-to-15 year olds, among others.

If you have any questions about this change in service, please contact me at 215-951-1431.

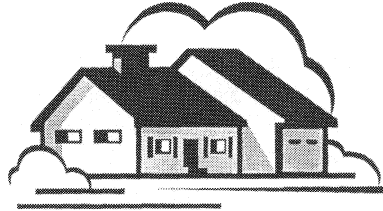

Sincerely,

Lane Robinson Wolf, PhD, RN, FAAN
Dean and Professor, School of Nursing
