

How would you apply this information about mindsets clinically or with your children (if you're parents)?

What is your major?