The Coaching Staff
Consistent, or more specifically a consistent winner is one of the best ways to describe La Salle’s John Miller.

Since taking the helm in 1986, Miller has compiled an overall collegiate coaching record of 204-89, making him the winningest coach in Explorer women’s basketball history. To his credit Miller has five 20-plus winning seasons, four Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (MAAC) regular season crowns, four Philadelphia Big 5 Championships, two NCAA Tournament appearances and one National Women’s Invitational Tournament (NWIT) appearance. At the close of the 1989 season, Miller’s Explorers were ranked No. 18 in the Associated Press (AP) poll. He has also claimed three Philadelphia Big 5 Coach of the Year honors, three MAAC Coach of the Year honors and a Regional Converse Coach of the Year Award.

With that tradition in mind, it is no surprise that in 1995-96, the Miller led Explorers posted their 12th straight winning season with a 19-10 overall record and a 10-6 mark in their first season in the Atlantic 10 Conference. Despite the fact that they were the new kids on the block in the Atlantic 10, the Explorers advanced to the championship game of the Atlantic 10 Tournament. During the regular season, Miller notched the 200th victory of his collegiate career with an 85-50 win over the University of Dayton. The 1995-96 season also saw Chrissie Donahue and Lori Sparling become the 13th and 14th players, respectively, to reach the 1,000th point plateau. All in a season’s work for Miller.

During the 1990-91 season, Miller recorded his 100th victory and became the first La Salle women’s coach ever to amass 100 wins. Miller’s 100th victory was also a significant milestone for the University because it was the 300th victory for the La Salle women’s basketball program. Then just three seasons later, he recorded a personal best coaching milestone as he won his 300th victory (includes 150 high school wins).

In addition to his own achievements, Miller has also witnessed many individual player accomplishments. Jenn Cole became the all-time leading scorer and Jenny McGowan became the all-time steal leader, while Mimi Harris became the all-time assist leader, to name a few. Miller also stresses the importance of the well-rounded student-athlete. Both Mary Greybush and Cole were named GTE Academic All-Americans.

Before joining the La Salle staff, Miller coached extensively on the high school level. In 1976, Miller was named the head coach of the boys team at Archbishop Ryan High School, after serving as an assistant to “Speedy” Morris at Roman Catholic High School for five years. During his nine-year stint at Ryan, Miller was twice named Catholic League Coach of the Year. From Ryan, Miller moved on to Monsignor Bonner High School for one year, where he closed out his high school coaching career with 150 wins to his credit.

Miller, a 1969 graduate of St. Charles Seminary, holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Philosophy. In 1976, he obtained a Master’s degree in Guidance and Counseling from Villanova. Originally from Reading, PA, Miller and his wife, Emily, now reside in the Roxborough section of Philadelphia with their seven year old daughter Katie.

Widely known for his intensity and attention to detail, Tom Lochner is in his 10th season as the top assistant coach in the Explorer program. Considered by many as John Miller’s right-hand man, Lochner spearheads the Explorer effort in numerous facets of the women’s basketball program at La Salle, especially in the areas of scouting, recruiting, fundraising, and budget and travel management.

Lochner came to La Salle in 1987, after meeting Miller at the NCAA Women’s Final Four. Prior to joining the Explorer staff, Lochner coached girls basketball at his alma mater, Bishop Gibbons High School in Schenectady, NY, from 1980-87. The first two years were spent teaching the junior varsity, followed by four years as the head coach of the varsity. La Salle Basketball 42
1995-96 Season Review
La Salle’s women’s basketball program had compiled a 55-30 record in three years as a member of the Midwestern Collegiate Conference, but 1995-96 would be a year to find out if, as a new member of the Atlantic 10 conference, the Explorers were ready to compete with some of the best schools on the East Coast.

La Salle fired out to a 5-1 start before hitting a rough stretch that included the beginning of the grueling Atlantic 10 schedule. However, the Explorers showed right away that they could perform on the same level as some of the A-10’s best teams. La Salle’s first conference victory was a 90-80 decision at Rhode Island, the conference’s Eastern Division champion and an NCAA tournament team.

The middle of the season was an aggravating experience for the La Salle coaches and players as the team struggled to play consistently. The big win over Rhode Island was followed by a disappointing two-point home loss to Fordham, the Eastern Division’s worst team.

The Explorers bounced back from the Fordham debacle with an impressive 78-68 home win over Xavier and another strong 87-77 victory over Massachusetts, who finished second in the A-10 East and was selected to the NCAA tournament. However, the Jekyll-and-Hyde Explorers couldn’t carry the momentum down to Virginia Tech, where La Salle was handed a 70-65 loss.

After losing to the Hokies, the Explorers won seven of their next nine games. The only setbacks in the stretch were to Atlantic 10 champion George Washington, a team that has set the standard for excellence in the Atlantic 10 the last three years. La Salle lost to the Colonials at home, 55-48, in the first-ever televised game in Hayman Hall history. GW also took a 56-43 victory in the nation’s capital.

The Explorers picked up a huge win at home on Senior Night, toppling Duquesne, 74-72, despite the Dukes’ Korie Hlede scoring 32 points. Fittingly, it was senior Lori Sparling’s buzzer-beating putback that gave La Salle the victory and clinched second place in the Atlantic 10 Western Division.

The La Salle hot streak ended on the final day of the regular season as St. Bonaventure upset the Explorers in Olean, N.Y., probably eliminating the faint hopes that La Salle could earn an at-large bid to the NCAA tournament.

Sparked by junior forward Chrissie Donahue, the Explorers tried to earn a berth to the Big Dance by winning the Atlantic 10 tournament in Blacksburg, Virginia and garnering the conference’s automatic berth.

In the quarterfinals, La Salle outlasted St. Joseph’s, 65-62, behind Donahue’s 25 points and 11 rebounds. Then came a rematch with Rhode Island, a hot team which had beaten GW a week before the A-10 tournament began. Donahue was again on fire, collecting 20 points and 13 boards, as the Explorers upset the Rams, 67-62.

One round to go. One win away. Standing between La Salle and the NCAA tournament was the Explorers’ biggest hurdle—the Colonials, one of the best programs on the East Coast. With less than four minutes to play, the championship game was tied at 60, but GW had too much down the stretch, beating La Salle, 73-68, and ending the Explorers’ post-season ride.

Donahue’s season was indicative of the team’s solid but inconsistent play. The junior from Broomall, Pennsylvania, picked up her 1,000th career point on the way to averaging 14.1 points and 8.2 rebounds, but was off her sophomore production of 18.8 points-per-game. Donahue was selected to the Big Five first-team and the Atlantic 10 second-team in 1996.

Sparling capped her career by averaging 12.1 points-per-game in her final season, earning second-team Big Five and third-team all-conference honors, while also collecting her 1,000th career point. Junior Marnie McBreen earned second-team all-Big Five honors with an 11.2 point-per-game average and a three-point shooting percentage of 41.8 percent.

Senior Marci Willis and junior Margit Rinke combined to average 15.4 points and 10.9 boards from the center spot. The point guard position was manned by the duo of steady junior Ann Gallagher and explosive sophomore Katie Wolfe.

Senior guard Ally Blue, sophomore forwards Sarah Haynes and Sarah Weiss and freshman center Carrie Jewett rounded out coach John Miller’s extensive rotation.

For the Explorers, the third loss to the Colonials marked the end of a 19-10 season of inconsistency, but also a year that showed La Salle was one of the top teams in the Atlantic 10.

Pittsburgh. Byrd guided the Eastern 8 through several membership changes as two schools left (Pittsburgh and Villanova), four schools were added (Rhode Island, St. Bonaventure, St. Joseph’s and Temple), and one school left and returned (Penn State). After membership stabilized, the Eastern 8 transformed into the Atlantic 10 Conference with Byrd orchestrating the drive to make the league more broad-based as the women’s sports of basketball, gymnastics, softball, tennis, and volleyball were added to the championship slate.

In May 1984, Byrd resigned as commissioner and was replaced by Charlie Theokas, who remained at the Atlantic 10 for 15 1/2 months and brought the league to national consciousness with his “Think Atlantic 10” campaign. On December 31, 1985, he resigned to accept the athletic director’s position at Temple and was replaced by Ron Bertovich, who officially assumed the commissioner’s position in May 1986 after serving as interim commissioner following Theokas’ departure. In six years as commissioner, Bertovich expanded the Conference staff to better meet the growing needs of the membership and established the Atlantic 10 Television Network, which developed into a major regional outlet. In addition, he oversaw further membership changes as Xavier was added to the league while Penn State, Rutgers and West Virginia left. Furthermore, he continued the league’s emphasis on broad-based programs as the Atlantic 10 expanded its championship list with the addition of women’s cross country, field hockey, men’s and women’s soccer, women’s swimming & diving, and men’s and women’s indoor track & field, as well as the reinstatement of men’s swimming & diving.

On April 13, 1994, Bertovich resigned his position to accept the job of vice president and general manager of Empire Sports Network in Buffalo. On June 14, 1994, Linda Bruno was officially introduced as the Atlantic 10’s fourth commissioner. In her short tenure as commissioner, Bruno has Stonger than ever, the Atlantic 10 Conference continues to gain in stature while maintaining its commitment to enhancing the academic and athletic integrity of its student-athletes.

The foundation of the Atlantic 10’s ascension to national prominence is solidified with an unwavering dedication to providing a broad-based, competitive athletic environment without sacrificing the high ideals of scholarship and sportsmanship. The University of Dayton, Duquesne University, Fordham University, The George Washington University, La Salle University, University of Massachusetts, University of Rhode Island, St. Bonaventure University, St. Joseph’s University, Temple University, Virginia Tech, and Xavier University offer a rich blend of proud academic and athletic traditions to form an impressive athletic alliance.

“The Atlantic 10 continues to prosper through our members’ firm commitment to their student-athletes and to the future of the Conference,” says commissioner Linda Bruno, who, in just two years with the Atlantic 10 has helped guide the Conference to prestige unparalleled in league history, “Each of our programs is dedicated to achieving the proper balance of excellence in both the classroom and on the playing field. The Atlantic 10 is proud of the accomplishments of our student-athletes but will continue to strive for even greater success.”

An example of the success the Atlantic 10 has enjoyed occurred this past winter when Massachusetts and St. Joseph’s reached the Final Four of the NCAA Men’s Basketball Tournament and the National Invitation Tournament, respectively. Ranked No. 1 longer than any other team in the nation last season, UMass became the first Atlantic 10 school to reach the Final Four, while St. Joseph’s also made Atlantic 10 history in becoming the first league school to play for a national basketball title.

The roots of this success can be traced to March 2, 1975, when eight university representatives met in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, to discuss the formation of a new collegiate basketball association. A similar meeting was also held on May 23 of that year with the final formation of the Eastern Collegiate Basketball League announced on August 13, 1975. The NCAA granted allied affiliation status upon the ECBL on October 15, 1975 and granted the league an automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament on June 17, 1976.

The ECBL began operation at the start of the 1976-77 season with Duquesne, George Washington, Massachusetts, Penn State, Pittsburgh, Rutgers, Villanova and West Virginia as its charter members. Several changes happened quickly in the ECBL, the first coming in 1977-78 when the league changed its name to the Eastern Athletic Association — better known as the Eastern 8 — to reflect its changing mission. That year, the Eastern 8 became more than a basketball league as the men’s sports of baseball, cross country, golf, swimming, and tennis were added to the championship schedule.

The next major change came in 1981 when the office of the commissioner was instituted. Leland Byrd, who had served as president and executive director of the league since its inception, as well as athletic director of West Virginia, was named the Conference’s first commissioner and established the commissioner’s office in strengthened the Atlantic 10’s membership with the additions of Dayton, Fordham, La Salle and Virginia Tech, thus assuring the Conference’s future. Bruno also negotiated a six-year television deal with ESPN/creative Sports — the most lucrative and broad-based package in league history — which translates into the greatest amount of exposure ever for the Atlantic 10’s athletic programs. She relocated the league office to Philadelphia, placing it in the center of the Atlantic 10’s geographic footprint, and, under her leadership, the Atlantic 10 has increased its championship schedule to 21 sports with the additions of women’s rowing and men’s and women’s outdoor track & field. In addition in an effort to recognize the athletic and academic achievements of all student-athletes, Bruno instituted the Commissioner’s Honor Roll last year, citing every Atlantic 10 student-athlete with 3.0 GPA or better.

Success in each of its championship sports has been the hallmark of the Atlantic 10 Conference and that was reinforced this past year when 20 teams and 11 individuals earned berths to sportsman competition. Among the fall season highlights were Virginia Tech sending its men’s and women’s cross country teams to NCAA district competition, while Rebecca Donaghue of Massachusetts and Sue Yagielski of St. Joseph’s, the Atlantic 10 cross country record holder, earned individual berths; Rhode Island gaining a spot in the NCAA Men’s Soccer Tournament; UMass going to the NCAA Women’s Soccer Tournament and advancing to the second round; and George Washington claiming the Atlantic 10’s automatic bid to the NCAA Women’s Volleyball Tournament and advancing to second round play. Meanwhile, the Colonials’ Svetlana Vtyurina graduated as the all-time kills leader in GW volleyball history with 3,043 for her career.

The winter was highlighted by Massachusetts becoming only the second team in NCAA history to win five-consecutive regular season and tournament titles en route to setting an Atlantic 10 record for wins in a season with its 35-2 record and advancing to the NCAA Final Four. Joining the Minutemen in the NCAA Tournament were Temple and Virginia Tech — each advancing to the second round — as well as George Washington. St. Joseph’s went to the final of the National Invitation Tournament, while Rhode Island reached the quarterfinals round, only to lose to the Hawks in an Atlantic 10 showdown. With six teams earning postseason bids, 1995-96 marked the sixth year in a row the Atlantic 10 has sent at least five teams to postseason play and increased to 76 the number of men’s basketball teams which have received postseason berths since the league was founded in 1976-77.

At season’s end, Marcus Camby of Massachusetts earned the John Wooden Award and the Boost/Naismith Award as the nation’s most outstanding player, as well as being honored by the Associated Press, National Association of Basketball Coaches, NCAA/United States Basketball Writers Association, The Sporting News, Basketball Weekly, CBS/Chevrolet, and Basketball Times.

Camby thus became the first-ever player in league history to earn national Player of the Year honors. John Calipari was named Coach of the Year by Boost/Naismith, becoming the second coach in Atlantic 10 history to be so honored.

For the 10th time in Atlantic 10 history, at least three league teams received bids to the NCAA Women’s Basketball Tournament as George Washington, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island were accorded honors. The Colonials advanced to the second rounds, while the Minutewomen and Rams were making their first-ever NCAA appearances. Individually, Duquesne’s Korie Hlide and George Washington’s Tajama Abraham were honorable mention Kodak All-Americans.

In women’s gymnastics, Massachusetts and Rhode Island advanced to NCAA Regional competition, while Daring Carver of Temple, and George Washington’s Tricia Gissendanner and Lisa Graber each advanced to the Regionals. In the pool, Fordham’s Paul Delo, George Washington’s Jonathan Klonsky and Larissa Ettone, Jackie Davoud of Virginia Tech, and Duquesne’s Dawn Fleissner all qualified for the NCAA Zone diving tournament.

The 1995-96 spring season saw Massachusetts advance to East Regional final of the NCAA Baseball Tournament, as well as go to the NCAA Softball Tournament, and Virginia Tech send its men’s and women’s tennis teams to NCAA competition. In addition, Tech’s Oliver Mayo qualified individually for the NCAA Men’s Tennis Tournament.

All told, 292 teams have represented the Atlantic 10 Conference in postseason play since the 1976-77 season.

Atlantic 10 student-athletes excel in the classroom as well. The Atlantic 10 sponsors several academic awards program, including Academic All-Conference teams in each of its championship sports (161 student-athletes were honored in 1995-96) and the Commissioner’s Honor Roll, which honored 983 student-athletes with a 3.0 grade point average or better this past year. The league also cites a male and female Scholar-Athlete of the Year, and awards a postgraduate scholarship to both a male and female student-athlete who express a desire to continue their education. This past year, Xavier’s Maurice Schilten, the Musketeers’ leading men’s soccer scorer last year and a first-team All-Conference and All-Atlantic 10 Championship pick was chosen as the Male Scholar-Athlete of the Year. Schilten, while playing two seasons with Xavier and scoring 26 goals and 24 assists, maintained a 3.61 gpa in accounting. The women’s Scholar-Athlete of the Year was shared by volleyball Svetlana Vtyurina of George Washington and runner Sue Yagielski of St. Joseph’s. Vtyurina ended her career as the NCAA’s all-time leader with 3,043 kills. A two-time national leader in that category, Vtyurina was named Atlantic 10 Player of the Year as a freshman (the first-ever athlete in league history to earn that honor as a freshman) and as a senior. Her 3.67 gpa in finance also earned her first-team Academic All-America acclaim. Yagielski was named the Most Outstanding Performer at both the Atlantic 10 Women’s Cross country Championship and Indoor Track & Field Championship. Yagielski won the cross country title in a Championship record 17:29.542. She also competed at the NCAA Cross Country Championship, finishing 60th - the best-ever finish by a Hawks’ runner. Indoors, she won the 5000 meters at the Atlantic 10 Championships in record time of 16:47.95. In the he classroom, Yagielski posted a 3.85 gpa in marketing and received the SJU Female Scholar-Athlete Award, honoring the student-athlete with the highest grade point average. The postgraduate scholarship winners were Temple’s Tom Bianco (baseball and Duquesne’s Mary-Beth Fennel (women’s swimming).

The Atlantic 10 Conference will crown champions in 21 sports this season: baseball, men’s and women’s basketball, men’s and women’s cross country, field hockey, men’s golf, women’s gymnastics, men’s and women’s indoor and outdoor track & field, women’s rowing, men’s and women’s soccer, softball, men’s and women’s swimming & diving, men’s and women’s tennis and women’s volleyball.

La Salle University is a liberal arts institution which combines the best of all educational worlds. With more than 5,700 men and women attending classes, the University offers a pleasant environment within close proximity to Philadelphia’s cultural, social and historic centers.

Founded by the Christian Brothers in 1863, La Salle is named for St. John Baptist de La Salle, the patron saint of teaching. The institution, which began as a one-building academy in center city Philadelphia, is now on a 100-acre campus in Philadelphia’s Germantown section.

The La Salle day and evening faculty numbers some 400, and the University offers nearly 50 programs of study. With a student-faculty ratio of 14:1 and an average class size of 20, students can be assured of as much personal guidance as needed from faculty members. This commitment to the individual has always been a major tenet of the Christian Brothers’ approach to education.

La Salle’s curriculum requires the completion of 120 credits, but allows wide flexibility in choosing courses. A limited number of requirements in English composition, literature, philosophy and religion provide greater opportunity for depth outside the student’s major field. The number of courses required by a department of its major never exceeds 17, leaving 8-10 courses as free electives that may be used to build a strong minor/dual major or to diversify one’s background.

Various independent study programs provide the students with greater options. A thriving nationally-recognized Honors Program is available for gifted students. “La Salle in Europe” offers students the opportunity to spend their sophomore or junior year at the University of Fribourg, in Switzerland, while receiving full academic credit at La Salle. Programs are also available for a semester or a year of study in Spain.

Among the major buildings on campus are: the Connelly Library; the Roland Holroyd Science Center with facilities for study and research in Biochemistry, Biology, Chemistry, Environmental Science, Geology and Psychology; the Olney Hall classroom building, and the College Union which houses offices for most student activities and clubs and is the main meeting place on campus.

The athletic department is housed in Hayman Hall. The facility includes the 1,700-seat Joseph Kirk Natatorium, three regulation-sized basketball courts, a 12 laps/mile suspended running track, weight training and exercise areas, a sauna, squash courts and a medical training area.

La Salle students come from 33 states and 18 countries. The university houses more than 1,600 resident students in 12 residence halls and three apartment complexes. More than 75% of the student body plan graduate or professional work in their fields, with more than 1,200 degrees conferred annually.

La Salle undergraduates have been awarded 50 Fulbright grants since 1970, one of the highest number presented to an institution in the Mid-Atlantic region. According to a recent survey, La Salle ranked in the top 4% nationally among private undergraduate institutions originating Ph.D.’s (33rd out of 877 colleges and universities).

Recently, La Salle has enjoyed increasing national attention, including:

- The New York Times, Money magazine, and Barron’s all selected La Salle to appear in their guides to the “best buys in college education.”
- The influential Long Island newspaper, Newsday, referred to La Salle as a “university on the rise” in an article entitled “Where the Hot Schools Are.”
- Standard & Poor’s ranked La Salle 10th among the nation’s liberal arts colleges in the number of graduates who are top corporate leaders.
- La Salle was selected to appear in Peterson’s Competitive Colleges, a profile of the schools that consistently accept the nation’s best students.
- La Salle had the nation’s fifth highest graduation rate (94%) among Division I schools (approximately 300) for students on athletic scholarships who entered in 1987-88. In last year’s survey, La Salle tied for sixth place, also with 94%.
- Each year, over 90% of all students recommended by the University have been offered entry into medical schools.
- Each year, recruiters representing nearly 290 companies and organizations visit La Salle’s campus to conduct job interviews with graduating seniors.
Academic Support Services

Student-athletes involved in an intercollegiate athletic program are in a very unique position. They are here in the role of both student and athlete and it is essential that they meet the demands of each role in order to experience success at La Salle. The Program of Academic Support Services for Student-Athletes was designed to assist student-athletes in their adjustment to their unique role. Through academic advising and essential support services, the active involvement of the student-athlete in the educational process is encouraged and the balance between academic and athletic achievement is fostered.

OBJECTIVES
- To assist the student-athlete in balancing academic demands so that their work toward an academic degree is completed.
- To provide a growth environment so the student-athlete can gain independence and achievement in all facets of life.
- To enhance the student-athlete’s years at La Salle through the utilization of campus resources and enrichment programs.
- To assist freshmen and transfer students in their first semester in the adjustment to the demands of college through their orientation program.
- To encourage excellence in academics and athletics so that the individual’s experience at La Salle is a rich and rewarding one.

ACADEMIC ADVISING
The course selection sheet of each student-athlete is reviewed prior to fall, spring and summer registration to ensure that all requirements are being met to continue satisfactory progress toward a degree and to maintain athletic eligibility.

MONITORING OF CLASSROOM PROGRESS
In order to stay abreast of the academic status of our student-athletes, progress reports monitoring attendance, completion of assignments and test scores are requested of faculty members during the semester. These reports also indicate if the student might benefit from additional help in a specified skill area. Freshmen and other selected student-athletes also meet weekly with the academic support services staff to complete self-assessment reports detailing attendance, completion of assignments, class participation and any test or project scores received.

TUTORING
If it is determined that any student-athlete could benefit from additional assistance to meet the demands of their courses, special tutoring is arranged. Our student-athletes have also made extensive use of the Sheekey Writing and Study Skills Center, the Math Lab and the Computer Science labs where individualized assistance is provided in particular skill areas.

STUDY HALL
Study hall is an academic practice designed to provide structured time for the student-athlete to complete the demands of class work. A study hall is open throughout the day for the use of the student-athlete. In addition, a supervised study hall is held each evening, Monday through Thursday. Student-athletes are assigned to this evening study hall at the discretion of their coaches in order to assist them in developing the skills needed to manage their time efficiently and effectively.

COUNSELING
Academic, career and personal counseling is available through the Office of Academic Support Services as well as the La Salle University Counseling Center and the Career Planning and Placement Bureau. The Counseling Center also assists the Office of Academic Support Services with identifying particular learning needs of any student-athlete and recommending specific courses of action which can be implemented to help ensure the academic success of the student.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS
Throughout the course of the year, special programs designed to respond to the specific needs of the student-athlete are arranged. These programs cover a diverse array of topics to stimulate and encourage the development of the student-athlete as a whole person. In addition, special Study Skills workshops are offered in conjunction with the Sheekey Writing and Study Skills Center of La Salle University. An orientation program including such relevant topics as time management, anxiety, interpersonal skill development and university etiquette is provided through the semester.
