Concert & Lecture Series

The Concert & Lecture Committee seeks proposals for funding of various events for the 2003-04 academic year.

1. Activities proposed must provide educational, intellectual, or cultural contributions to the life of the University and be related to the University's mission. Activities that are primarily recreational or entertainment in content will not be funded.

2. Activities do not have to be confined to the discipline(s) of a sponsoring academic department nor do they have to be limited to the specific area of activity of non-academic sponsors (e.g., a department in the School of Business might sponsor a concert or a student organization might sponsor an art exhibit). Presentations, lectures, and other course-oriented events to which the LaSalle community would be invited would also be considered.

3. Proposals for funding should contain:
   a. A statement of the objectives of the activities proposed and their relation to the mission of the University;
   b. A statement of the contribution of the activities to the educational, intellectual, and cultural life of the University;
   c. An outline of the specific activities to be undertaken;
   d. A calendar for the activities proposed and an outline of the planning calendar to accomplish the activities;
   e. A proposed budget;
   f. An outline of the constituencies involved in the planning of the program;
   g. An outline of the responsibilities of the people or groups involved in carrying out the proposed program;
   h. A statement on how the outcome of the program will be assessed.

4. The reviewing committee will evaluate proposals on the basis of their adherence to announced guidelines and goals for programs. Proposals which seek complementary funding from other sources (either from other University units or external organizations) will be viewed more favorably than those proposals seeking support only from the Concert & Lecture Committee.

5. The Committee expects that promotional literature (e.g., campus posters, Collegian advertising) indicates that funding has come from the “Concert & Lecture Series.”

6. Due Dates for proposals (submitted to Bro. John McGoldrick [e-mailed to mcgoldri@lasalle.edu]):
   - Fall 2003: Friday, May 30, 2003
   - Spring 2004: Friday, October 31, 2003

Some examples of funding in 2002-03:
   - Partial funding of the “Living American Writers” series
   - Partial funding of the “Guerrilla Girls” presentation
   - Partial funding of the Pennsylvania Woodwind Quintet
Student Press Committee
March 24, 2003
Minutes

Present: Anna Allen; John Beatty, chair; Megan Cahill; Ali Eaton; Tonya Ellis; Danielle Landwher; Karen Schuster; Neal Tyler
Excused: Frank Ciaburri; David Falcone; William Hall; Anne Marie Smith
Absent: Kevin Hyslop

This meeting of the Student Press committee began with the approval for submitting the minutes from the last meeting on February 24, 2003, with some minor changes. The following items were then discussed:

Recent Collegian advertisements, including an SGA advertisement and a Feminists for Life advertisement, both in the March 19 issue, were discussed.

In the SGA advertisement, there were unsubstantiated allegations directed at two schools in the area, which raised concern about libel. The Committee inquired how advertisements are screened or reviewed by Collegian editors before they are published. Karen Schuster informed the Committee that, presently there is no policy or screening procedure for advertisements received by the Collegian; however, the Collegian does have the ability to turn advertisements away. Ali Eaton also informed the Committee that the University cannot be sued for libel in this case because it was an advertisement, and she may research this further for the Committee. [Note for the Record: The University can in fact be sued for libel contained in an ad, under the republication rule of American libel law.] Since there was also some original confusion concerning the purpose and content of the column designated to the president of SGA, known as "The President's Corner", the Collegian offered to re-establish the column as a method of presenting upcoming SGA events on campus. In an effort to maintain a more organized column for SGA, the Collegian suggests using a beat editor and/or creating a written summary of the schema for future columns designated to other organizations.

The Feminists for Life advertisement was also discussed, since the material is perceived as "anti-choice," this advertisement violates number four on page 75 of the Student’s Guide to Rights and Responsibilities. This point states, "University reserves the right to exclude advertisements for... off-campus events pertaining to abortion, contraception, and reproduction." The Collegian representatives saw this advertisement as a balance to the organization of the newspaper, since they had recently published a few pro-choice articles and editorials promoting contraceptives on campus, and they admit accepting this advertisement was a mistake.

The points listed below are references in the Student’s Guide to Rights and Responsibilities brought to the attention of the Committee:
- Appendix B, number 5, page 77 states, "A newspaper should not publish unofficial charges attacking reputation or moral character..." Committee members questioned whether or not this section would pertain to advertisements as well as articles, and it was decided that, as it reads, it seems only to pertain to articles.
- On page 75, it states that "As publisher/manager, the University retains the right to exclude advertisements for..." To this section, the Committee recommends to add "material unsubstantiated" as item number five. This section is unclear in the way it delegates this responsibility to the Collegian and its editors. The Committee recommends to modify the language of this section to read, "As publisher, the University passes this responsibility on to the editors of the Collegian," for example.

Also on page 75, under the Guidelines for Letters to the Editor, Guest Columns, and Opinion Pieces, it states that, "will be considered for publication provided they meet with the Editor's standards..." It was presented that there are no formal standards in which the editor could refer to in the instance of a questionable advertisement.

Other topics of the meeting were as follows:

Distribution of the Collegian was raised as an issue to discuss, since it seems logistically difficult when considering the use of vehicles and other modes of distribution to do so. The web version of the Collegian was considered as an alternative, if it remains strong and consistent through its issues. Another alternative is the up and coming Campus Pipeline, in which readers could bookmark the Collegian on their computers. As a footnote, Campus Pipeline could also change how editors would submit the Collegian on the web, and this process will be further discussed this summer when a committee creates new policies concerning Campus Pipeline.

WEXP advertising is currently being reviewed by its members. Looking into the future, there could be potential issues with advertising increasing on WEXP. For example, if the Trocadero, which serves alcohol, promotes an event through WEXP, this potentially could also be considered promoting alcohol at the event. Since Athletics has also fallen into this gray area of advertising, it was suggested that WEXP discuss the guidelines that Athletics enlists in this area. John Beatty also suggested that WEXP should be included in the same guidelines as the Collegian; perhaps this should be formalized by adding, "...and WEXP" or "...and all forms of media" to the guidelines in the Student Handbook and Student Guide to Rights and Responsibilities.

Additional guidelines in the Student Handbook that were presented in the beginning of the year to be discussed in the future should now be reviewed by the Committee's members. These areas include, but are not limited to, responsibilities and membership, quorum and amendments. The relevant sections can be located on pages 73 and 74. To the section, Quorum, the Committee previously proposed that at least two members should be students. To the Objectives, the Committee previously proposed that after "formulate general policies..." should be added, "as needed." Under Responsibilities, the Committee is asked to focus on points 3, 4, and 6 for discussion at the next meeting. Members were asked to post any viewpoints on the database. These viewpoints will be compiled and submitted to the Committee for recommendations.

The next meeting of the Committee will be held on April 14th at 1 p.m. The designated room will be announced as it is confirmed by John Beatty.

Minutes prepared by Danielle Landwher Loving Father,
our strength in adversity,
our health in weakness,
our comfort in sorrow,
be merciful to your children who turn to you.

Fulfill the promise given by your Son and send your holy Spirit to enlighten our minds and lead us to all truth.

Bless, these, your children,
as they begin their final exams.
Enfold them in your peace,
cover their fears with your love.
Help them to remember the gifts you have given them,
to use their intelligence honestly and wisely,
to invest their time prudently,
and not to neglect rest or prayer.

Father, bless our departing graduates, transferring students,
and others who will soon leave us for other endeavors.
May your peace and strength be always upon them.
And may we who remain
continue to grow as a community of love, returning after a period of rest,
refreshed and strengthened,
to build up the Body of Christ, your Son, on our campus.

We ask this in his name. Amen!

Let us remember...
we are in the holy presence of God.
