New Director of Security and Safety Appointed

I am pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Mark J. Dorsey as Director of Security and Safety. Mark comes to us after a long and distinguished career with the Philadelphia Police Department where he achieved the rank of Inspector and most recently as Director of Public Safety for Lakewood, New Jersey. Prior to Lakewood, he spent twenty-six years with the Philadelphia Police Department where his most recent assignment was as the Inspector in command of the Narcotics Division. Mark graduated from La Salle University with a BA in Sociology and Criminal Justice. In addition to his college education, he participated in professional programs provided by the U.S. Secret Service, Pennsylvania State Police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mark will begin on September 29, 2003. I hope that you will join me in welcoming him to La Salle.

I would like to acknowledge with thanks the excellent work of the Search Committee whose cooperation and commitment helped us accomplish this appointment.

Search Committee for the Director of Security and Safety
Mr. Brian Elderton, Vice President for University Advancement
Mr. David C. Fleming, Vice President for Business Affairs
Mr. Robert Levens, Director of Security and Safety
Ms. Rose Lee Pauline, Assistant Vice President for Business Affairs
Mr. Alan B. Wendell, Associate Dean of Students

Sincerely,

David C. Fleming
Vice President for Business Affairs

MEMORANDUM

Date: September 17, 2003

To: LaSalle Community

From: Sarah Hopkins, Director of University Events
Rosemarie Veltri, Coordinator of Conference & Guest Services

Re: Scheduling of Events

Welcome Back!

We wanted to take this opportunity to explain the services that are available and necessary to the La Salle community when scheduling, planning and/or executing a variety of events.

The University Events Office can assist your department in scheduling, budgeting, developing event content and location, décor and executing your upcoming campus event. The office provides event logistic services to campus departments and offices. By utilizing these services, your event information can be streamlined to administrative services, food services, physical facilities, security and other offices for better coordination.

The Conference and Guests Services Department was established last year to assist with similar event planning needs, but for "Off Campus" clients. "Off Campus Clients" are defined as those groups, who are not affiliated with La Salle University, but who the University deems appropriate to host. "Off Campus Clients" need to follow certain procedures, which are in place to ensure the success and the safety of the event. This office has been established to better serve and accommodate the ever growing need to host and organize the events and programs, which take place at LaSalle University.

Please, keep these things in mind when planning an event:

- Check the events calendar to see what other events are taking place on campus in order to ensure that space and parking will be available for attendees.
  - This calendar can be located on the events channel on mylasalle.
- Call either of us, Sarah or Rose, to understand whether your group would be considered Campus or Non Campus, if you are not sure.
- Keep in mind, that the facility needs, which you may be requesting, i.e. tables, chairs, AV equipment, might be unavailable due to other activities on campus. In this case, an outside vendor may be necessary to execute your event. The vendor information can be supplied by Sarah or Rose upon request.
- Students, who are planning events, should contact the Programming Center for assistance.
  - This center is located in the Student Union, Room 307, X5044.

When organizing an "On Campus" event, call University Events at x1837 or when organizing an "Off Campus" event, call Conference and Guest Services at x1943. Please, let us know if you have any questions regarding this information.

Active Learning Group
Organizational Meeting

Friday, September 26
1:00 – 1:50 pm
Olney 99

The Teaching and Learning Center is sponsoring a faculty study group on active (and cooperative) learning techniques. The group will meet periodically during the year and group members will help shape the agenda – possible activities include reading and discussing accounts of successful active learning approaches, inviting a guest speaker to present an active learning workshop, and creating active learning resources to share with the campus community.

If you are interested in finding ways to engage your students more fully and effectively, this is the group for you!

Join us on the 26th – or, if you can’t make the meeting but would like to participate in the group – contact Sabrina DeTurk, deturk@lasalle.edu or ext. 5005.

TENURE TRACK POSITION FOR AN ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF CREATIVE WRITING IN THE DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

The Department of English announces a tenure-track position for an Assistant Professor to teach creative writing and a complement of other courses beginning in the Fall semester 2004.

Candidates must have an appropriate terminal degree (MFA or Ph.D.) in hand by September 2004 and an ability to teach fiction writing. The ability also to teach poetry or play writing would be a plus. Candidates are expected already to have a record of publications and the promise of future publication. Because La Salle is a teaching-centered university, previous teaching experience at the college level is also necessary. Candidates should submit by mail (not electronically) only the following materials: a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, and a separate one-page statement of their teaching philosophy. Further details about the department and the position can be found on the department’s website at www.lasalle.edu.
