PHILADELPHIA, PA – La Salle University and head coach Billy Hahn announce the addition of Stephen Stewart to the men’s basketball staff.

Stewart, 32, joins the staff after one season at the University at Albany where he was an assistant to Will Brown.

Prior to his stint with the Greyhounds, the Philadelphia native (Parkway High) coached two years at his alma mater Coppin State under the legendary Ron “Fang” Mitchell.

“We are delighted to bring on a talented guy like Stephen Stewart,” said Coach Billy Hahn. “Stephen is a Philly guy who has already shown great ability to recruit at the collegiate level. I really feel that he is a rising star among young coaches and will be perfect for our staff.”

As a player at Coppin State, Stewart’s list of accomplishments is both impressive and considerable. He was a two-time Mid Eastern Athletic Conference Player of the Year (’94, ’95), and a MEAC Tournament Most Outstanding Player in 1993. He averaged 16.6 points and 5.9 rebounds in his final two seasons while leading the Eagles to a pair of NCAA Tournament appearances, two MEAC regular season championships, an NIT victory over St. Joseph’s and a career record of 47-1 in conference games.

Stewart comes from a basketball-rich family which includes his brothers; Lynard, former Temple forward and Larry, who played at Coppin State from 1987-1991 and played six seasons in the NBA with the Washington Bullets and Seattle Supersonics.
